LONG MARCH TO FREEDOM

SERVING soldiers and veterans will parade through Cannock next month as they are honoured for their service by council bosses.

The 3rd Battalion Mercian Regiment (3Mercian) – formerly the Staffords – are to be granted the freedom of Cannock Chase alongside the Staffordshire Regimental Association.

by Rob Golledge

They will exercise their right to march through the town on Friday June 27 and will receive a velum scroll and casket.

Cannock Chase Council voted to confer the 'Freedom of Entry' honour on both organisations. It was given unanimous backing from councillors and grants 'the freedom to march through the streets of the district with bayonets fixed, drums beating and Colours flying'.

History

District council leader George Adamson said: "The Staffords have a long and proud history and have fought in major campaigns.

"We're coming up to the centenary of the First World War and when you remember that 10,000 soldiers from the old Staffordshire Regiment died during that conflict you begin to understand the sacrifices that have been made over the Regiment's illustrious history.

"The Freedom of Entry honour and parade through the district will be a wonderful opportunity for everyone in the district to show their respect and thanks to serving soldiers and veterans, who will be marching side by side. We will be bestowing an honour on both organisations, but the honour will truly be ours," he said.

The Staffords started life as the 38th Regiment of Foot that was raised at the Kings Head in Lichfield in 1705. It later became the North and South Staffords, which amalgamated to form The Staffordshire Regiment (Prince of Wales') in 1959.

This became the 3rd Battalion Mercian Regiment (3Mercian) after another reorganisation of the Army in 2007. 3Mercian will merge with the 1st and 2nd Battalions Mercian Regiment as the size of the regular Army is reduced.

The personnel will be posted to the new 1st and 2nd Battalions, which will form in Bulford and Chester respectively.

There will also be final parades in Stafford, Wolverhampton, Walsall, Newcastle-under-Lyme, Stoke-on-Trent, Burton-upon-Trent and Lichfield.

There will not be a disbandment parade but there will be a service at Lichfield Cathedral.

The Freedom of the town of Hednesford has also been conveyed on regimental mascot Watchman V.

The honour was conferred at a ceremony at Pye Green Community Centre on Tuesday.

Campaign to scrap market is criticised

A CAMPAIGN to scrap a new street market in Cannock has been labelled 'ridiculous'.

Steven Cox, a consultant for the Friday market said he wanted to sit down with indoor market traders so they could 'work together'.

The street market was launched by Cannock Chase Council in a joint initiative with Bescot Promotions in a bid to attract shoppers and boost existing trade.

But struggling indoor market stallholders say many of the street market stalls are duplications of their own and claim their sales are down by up to 50 per cent.

Concerns

Mr Cox said: "The petition to close the market is ridiculous. I understand there are concerns from the indoor traders but we have done an awful lot to help support them.

"Footfall on a Friday has risen significantly. Traders say they are hard done by but that is not the case.

"The feedback we have had from shoppers has been great. The only bad feedback we have had is from the indoor market traders.

"I don't want to fight. I would like to sit down with so that we can find a way of going forward."

Call centre jobs double

CONSUMER car buyer WeWantAnyCar.com is to double its staff at its Cannock call centre as its number of nationwide branches continues to expand.

Around 20 new employees will be taken on at the Cannock call centre – taking the total to 40.

The company, launched in 2009, now has 70 UK branches with a 30 scheduled to open this year.

Angela Newton, contact centre manager, said it was currently handling on average 10,000 calls per week.

Food treat in store for youngsters

Better Service Manager Emily Archer with youngsters Charlie Hodges and Lola Miller, both aged six and their classmates from Gorsemoor Primary School as they visit Tesco in Heath Hayes

THERE was a treat in store for youngsters as they were shown how fruit and veg are grown, sampled different cheeses and learned to make to bread.

Four groups of Year One children from Gorsemoor Primary in Heath Hayes were taken on a tour of the village's Tesco supermarket.

The five-and-six-year-olds were shown around by Better Service Manager Emily Archer as part of the store's Farm to Fork project, an initiative designed to help children learn where their food comes from. Emily said: "Our Farm to Fork trails started in February and have already had more than 250 children visit our Heath Hayes store.

Intriguing

"The trails offer interactive, educational fun to keep pupils engaged.

"Wherever possible, they'll get to sniff, touch, make and taste their way through the intriguing world of food."

During their visit last week, the children took a tour of the produce section and got to taste different fruits and vegetables. They discovered the delights of the dairy department, tried different cheeses, took a close look at what was on offer on the fish counter and ended the day by baking a decorating a loaf to take home.

Emily added: "All our trails have been a great success. Children have loved them and have all said they have learned and tried something new."

Newlife in £2m boost for children

MORE than £2 million has been spent on specialist equipment for disabled and terminally ill children in a record-breaking year for the Newlife Foundation.

The country's leading children's disability charity gave out grants to more than 1,300 youngsters in the last year.

The grants paid for equipment including powered and manual wheelchairs, specialist buggies and car seats, standing and walking frames, beds and safe environments, portable hoists and communication aids.

Struggle

The charity funded £2,088,105 of aids and saw an increase of families seeking help from other services.

Newlife chief executive Sheila Brown OBE said: "Without charities like Newlife, thousands of families each year would struggle to get the equipment support they need to help their children make the most of life's opportunities."

Newlife's emergency equipment loan service was 88 per cent better used this financial year, while its Play Therapy Pod service – which provides three-month loans of sensory and developmental toys for children with complex needs – saw a 273 per cent rise.

Pitmen boss tells of pride

HEDNESFORD boss Rob Smith was left deflated but proud as his side missed out on promotion.

The Pitmen, level at 2-2 from the Skrill North play-off semi-final first leg against Altrincham, led 1-0 in the away tie before conceding two late goals.

Smith said: "I'm gutted for the lads.We just needed to hang on a couple of minutes more but I've never been as proud of a dressing room in my whole career."

Terry comes out of shell at trust HQ

HE is normally found in America or Mexico. But this friendly red-eared terrapin has made it all the way to the Wolseley Centre near Rugeley.

Terry the terrapin has appeared in the grounds of Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's headquarters again this year. Wolseley Centre staff gave him his name when he first appeared there 10 years ago.

Trust spokesman James Wood said: "Terry has appeared on Stephen's Pond at our headquarters every spring and summer since we moved to Wolseley Bridge over a decade ago.

"Whenever it's sunny, he sits on a log. He is most probably a captive pet released into the wild."

Red-eared terrapins are usually found in southern America and northern Mexico. They live in still or slow-moving fresh water, feeding on plants, fish and insects. They are commonly kept as pets and they live between 20 and 50 years.

Mr Wood added: "In the winter he will probably burrow into the woods to hibernate. He doesn't pose any harm to the ducks. He eats plants, fish and insects"

The Wolseley Centre is surrounded by 26 acres of grounds, which include wildlife-friendly display gardens.

Unit closure will 'put extra pressure on A&E'

SHADOW Health Secretary Andy Burnham says controversial proposals to shut Cannock Hospital's minor injuries unit 'makes no sense' and will put extra pressure on accident and emergency departments.

As a public meeting revealed the unit is currently costing the cash-strapped hospital £750,000 a year to run, Mr Burnham said: "To close the MIU makes no sense."

"The patients have to go somewhere and many will just end up going to accident and emergency. It costs more to treat someone in A&E. It will just put financial pressure on services elsewhere."

A 12-week consultation is to be launched. Health bosses are looking to close the department to plug a £17m hole in their budget.

They want to replace the unit with a new 'emergency centre' in the town which would be run by doctors and include services such as radiology, and blood tests.

Struggle

During a meeting of Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group, chairman Dr Johnny McMahon said a 'significant amount' of people, around 40 per cent, currently going to the unit needed to go and see their GP instead.

Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley is calling for assurances from health chiefs that patients will not struggle to get treated if the unit closes.

He said: "Going forward I understand that it is the intention of the CCG to develop an Urgent Care Centre in Cannock – a move I would welcome. However the CCG need to give assurances that there will be no gap in provision."

Bosses have also revealed the closure of Littleton ward at Cannock Hospital at Christmas could be made permanent.

Date agreed for transfer of hospital

STAFFORD Hospital will be handed over to new bosses in October as part of plans to downgrade the site.

Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt backed plans to downgrade the hospital in February – and the timescale has now been announced.

The University Hospital of North Staffordshire will take over the hospital from Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust on October 1.

The Support Stafford Hospital group is taking legal action to stop the overhaul going ahead – and will be given funding from Stafford Borough Council.

The trust was dissolved because it was deemed financially and clinically unsustainable.

A report to a meeting of the UHNS says: "The transaction documentation will be completed and ready for signature by September 30 to enable transfer by October 1."

A review of the maternity unit will start once the trust has been dissolved.

Stafford's A&E opening hours will be permanently reduced to 14, its maternity unit downgraded and care for very sick children, major surgery and emergency treatment moved to Stoke.

Key witness awarded OBE

Helene Donnelly is awarded her OBE by the Princess Royal at Buckingham Palace

NURSE Helene Donnelly – a key witness in the damning Francis Inquiry into the appalling standards of care at Stafford Hospital – has been invested as an OBE.

Mrs Donnelly, from Gnosall, previously worked in the A&E department at Stafford Hospital and now works with the Staffordshire and Stoke on Trent Partnership NHS Trust's in a special role as Ambassador for Cultural Change. She works to encourage staff to raise concerns and ensures that the voice of the frontline is clearly heard by bosses. She said: "This honour is a recognition for everyone who is trying to genuinely raise concerns and build a more open and honest culture within the health service.

"Being recognised in this way is a great honour and an achievement for everyone trying to further positive change."

Partnership Trust Chief Executive Stuart Poynor said: "We are extremely proud of Helene and her commitment to making sure the voice of our staff is better heard when raising concerns."

Collection for charity ahead of cup final

A JUNIOR football team held a collection for the Teenage Cancer Trust last weekend.

Hawkins Sports under-16s officials held the collection before its Lichfield Shield final against Sutton United at Hednesford Town's Keys Park ground on Sunday.

It comes as cancer sufferer Stephen Sutton hit the £3m with his fundraising efforts for the cause.

Hawkins manager Andy Garbett said: "I know Stephen personally and a lot of the lads on the team know him as well.

"We just want to do our bit to help his fundraising efforts."

Hawkins Sports and Social Club this season have been promoted from the Lichfield and District League Division 3.

Stephen was diagnosed with bowel cancer when he was 15.

Despite the best efforts of surgeons, the aggressive cancer spread to different parts of his body and after further treatment and operations, doctors concluded it was incurable.

He created a bucket-list of 46 things he wanted to do and said he wanted to raise £10,000 for charity.

Money raised at superstore

MORE than £40,000 has been raised by charities collecting at a Cannock supermarket over the past 12 months.

Local and national causes, youth and community groups have taken part in bag packs or collection days in the foyer at Sainsbury's – and a sum of £40,289.77 has been raised.

The Orbital Way store is now placing collection buckets at the end of checkouts, its kiosk, cafe, phone shop and service desks for customers to make donations to the Teenage Cancer Trust in aid of Stephen Sutton.

Strenuous trek

A STRENUOUS nine-mile walk at Ilam and Milldale in Derbyshire is being undertaken by the Chase & District Ramblers this weekend. Departure time from Hednesford rail station car park, Anglesey Street, is 9am on Sunday (May 11).

Bosses to hear from rail users at drop-in

USERS of the Chase Line have another chance to meet train bosses about services in Cannock Chase next week – courtesy of Aidan Burley MP

London Midland Chief Executive Patrick Verwer and other senior representatives from the company have accepted the MP's invitation to meet with local passengers at a "drop-in" event on Thursday, May 15, from 6.30-8pm in the foyer of Tesco in Victoria Street in Hednesford.

It follows a similar event organised by Mr Burley last year which allowed commuters to tell London Midland bosses face to face about their own experiences on the line.

Mr Burley said: "The Chase Line is vital for many of my constituents, particularly for those who use the line on a daily basis to get to and from work.

"I know from speaking to those who attended last year's event that they found it far more useful than the usual complaints procedure.

"I am delighted therefore to have been able to secure another similar meeting this year to allow local people who use the service to put their questions, concerns and suggestions directly to the man in charge."

Care provider is recruiting

A LEADING provider of housing and care services is holding a recruitment day next week.

Housing & Care 21 is recruiting community care staff to cover the Cannock and Stafford postcodes and is holding the drop-in event on Thursday, May 15 from 10am to 3pm at its Cannock care office, Pendragon House, Ridings Park, Eastern Way, Hawks Green.

Applicants will need to be car drivers and will be required to complete a Criminal Records Bureau Disclosure, that is paid for by Housing & Care 21.

Thumbs-up from PM during hospital visit

Thumbs up from Sutton and Cameron

CELEBRITIES have been queueing up to back the inspirational teenager. Now David Cameron has hailed the 'courage' and 'zest for life' of cancer patient Stephen Sutton following a bedside visit.

The Prime Minister popped into the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham to meet the 19-year-old from Burntwood–and give him the thumbs-up.

The Chase Terrace Technology College student, who has raised more than £3million for the Teenage Cancer Trust after inspiring people across the globe, is recovering from an operation to remove a tumour.

Mr Cameron said: "He's amazing, just an inspiration. Anyone who watches that video on You Tube just can't help but be impressed by his bravery and courage but also his incredible warmth and passion for life.

"He's also got a great sense of humour, a great sense of fun, his bucket list is extraordinary. Here's this guy who is fighting a disease but has also got time to inspire hundreds of thousands of other people.

"His zest for life and his courage at taking on all of these challenges is absolutely incredible.

"The really amazing thing is how much money he has raised. It has gone global, millions of pounds for an excellent cause."

Stephen, who has an incurable form of cancer, set up a bucket list of things to do in the time he had left and launched a campaign to raise £10,000 for his nominated charity.

The fund had reached £500,000 when he was taken into hospital on Easter Sunday with a collapsed lung. He made an unexpected recovery although he is still ravaged by tumours. In the latest money-raising bid, the Midcounties Co-operative in the West Midlands raised £75,000 over the Easter weekend. It brings its total for the charity so far to £375,000, just 25 per cent off its £500,000 target.

Supporters show love for Stephen in record bid

by Craig Hughes

IT'S another thing ticked off his bucket list as hundreds of people helped create a world record in honour of inspirational teenager Stephen Sutton.

More than 500 gathered to make a heart shaped hand gesture, the most ever at the same time, in his hometown of Burntwood.

The 19-year-old was only discharged from hospital on Friday, just over a week after he gave a final thumbs up.

He even appeared and took part in the record-breaking event at Chase Terrace Technology College on Sunday as a total of 554 people helped to make it happen.

The teenager, who has incurable cancer, has raised more than £3.1 million for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

Young and old gave their support to the teenager by by doing the heart-shaped gesture for two minutes.

Getting a place in the record books was on his bucket list of 46 things he wanted to achieve before he died.

There were chants of we love Stephen as he joined in and following the successful record attempt there was a laughathon to continue the feel good atmosphere.

Supporters make a heart shape for Stephen's record attempt

Stephen Sutton joins friends and family for the bid

Cheers

After brief fears there would not be enough people to smash through the 500 mark there were frantic calls to get others to come along.

The number soon rose to and surpassed the target which was needed for the world record and there were cheers when the confirmation was received.

Among those taking part were Gail Smith, aged 40, her husband Anthony, 42, Morgan aged 10 and Hannah, eight, from Burntwood.

Mrs Smith said: "We came here for Stephen, I I think he is so inspiring."

Also taking part was Pat Smith, 62, who said: "Everyone is really behind Stephen, its impossible to describe the goodwill towards him."

It was one a series of fundraising events held over the weekend which included a comedy night, tribute band performance and also a football match at Walsall Wood.

Meanwhile, Stephen has thanked the public and his army of celebrity supporters for helping him raise more than £3million for the Teenage Cancer Trust – and hit back at internet trolls who claim he has 'duped' people into donating to charity.

In a heart-warming Facebook message just minutes after being discharged from the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham, he wrote: "Obviously quite a lot has changed since I first went into hospital about two weeks ago.

"This Facebook page now has over half a million likes, then there's 180k Twitter followers, over 3million has been raised for Teenage Cancer Trust and almost everyone probably knows my name and who I am!

"Knowing so much love and support is out there has helped keep me going so thank you!

"I also had the support from a number of high profile celebrities, which was also greatly appreciated and particularly hugely helped the fundraising push.

"Ultimately over £3million has been raised for Teenage Cancer trust which is just staggering… I can still barely get my head round it… just thank you to EVERYONE who has got involved/shared/donated/etc!!!"

Recovery

Stephen's fund had reached £500,000 when he was taken into hospital on Easter Sunday with a collapsed lung. He made an unexpected recovery although he is still ravaged by tumours. However, cruel messages have also been posted on Twitter and Facebook after Stephen was released from hospital.

The 19-year-old took to social media in response as friends rallied round to express their disgust and give their support.

The internet troll, whose Twitter profile was later not active, said people were feeling duped after his sudden recovery.

But Stephen said: "Sorry to disappoint you! So you know, I still have my cancer and it's still incurable, if that makes you feel less 'duped' x"

Naomi Hulme tweeted: "If we had more people like Stephen we'd be rich in ways money can't buy."

Hannah Telles, aged 17, a school friend of Stephen who helped organise Sunday's record bid, said: "I think it is disgusting really that someone could have said it. He has had an impact on so many people.".

Friend Ollie Tooth, 18, added: "He is such a genuine guy that is trying to make a difference."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

YOU know you're getting old when your holidays start looking more like pilgrimages. By the time this appears, I should be taking a wee dram in the bar of the hotel in the little Scottish village that is forever Furness.

IT WAS here in 1982 that a little-known film director, Bill Forsyth, brought together a small team of actors and one global superstar, Burt Lancaster, to make a movie which made the whole world smile. On paper, Local Hero is simply a story of a Texas oil company trying to turn a little Scottish bay into the petro-chemical capital of Europe, without bargaining on some canny locals and one stubborn old hermit (Fulton Mackay) who claims he owns the beach. But it actually goes much deeper. Local Hero is a film about values, weighing the world-conquering dollar against the simple pleasures of a quiet life.

THE young oil executives sent to clinch the deal, McIntyre (Peter Riegert) and Oldsen (Peter Capaldi), quickly go native. First their ties disappear, then the smart jackets. Gathering seashells, McIntyre leaves his prized wristwatch by a rock pool. As the tide rises you hear the alarm call, the tune of The Yellow Rose of Texas ("conference time in Houston") fading under the waves.

FORSYTH set the fictional village of Furness in the real-life fishing village of Pennan, near Fraserburgh on the bleak north-east coast of Scotland. Ever since we saw the film more than 30 years ago, we promised that one day we would make the long trek to Pennan and stay at the little hotel where McIntyre, slipping into local ways, orders a 42-year-old whisky and, when he's told it's not available says: "Well give me four eight-year olds and a ten-year old."

LOCAL Hero became part of my 40-year love affair with Scotland, an affair which has taken me from the white beaches of Benbecula to salmon fishing in Thurso, from malt-whisky tasting in Leith to the wild moors of Corrour, to the romance of the West Highland Line and the endless fascination of sailing on Loch Lomond. As the referendum on independence draws closer, It occurs to me that I have never regarded Scotland as anything other than a separate country, a place apart in culture, language, banknotes, food and attitudes. The thing that strikes me time after time, and which seems so odd to us English, is the kinship between Scots. It's not that they all love each other but there is a quiet conviction, no matter where they meet, that to be Scottish is to belong to a very exclusive club. It is a kinship which transcends wealth and class, religion, politics, clan and even the old Highland-Lowland divide. It is based largely on the shared and bonding experience of living next door to the English. Which raises the question of what happens if and when the Scots vote for independence. What becomes of that kinship when you remove the unifying factor, the common enemy, the frightful Sassenach? Does Scotland become one proud nation? Or might it simply become ungovernable?

AND finally in Furness, there's the immortal red telephone box. In the days before mobiles, the phone box was the only link between Mr Happer the oil magnate in Houston and his man McIntyre in Furness. It's still there, on the seafront by the hotel, and is reputed to be the most telephoned, and possibly the most famous, phone box in the world. If you've seen the unbearably poignant ending of Local Hero, as McIntyre tries to ring Furness from his flat in Houston, you'll know why.

YOU'VE never seen Local Hero? Then do.

One of the curiosities on display at the shop in Bridgtown

Nathan Barry has long had an interest in collectable such as this

Teenager's treasured tribute to granddad

by Deborah Hardiman

IT may seem an unusual career choice for a teenager. But Nathan Barry says his new business has allowed him to pursue his passion for collecting antiques.

The 19-year-old has set up his own antiques firm selling all kinds of unusual treasures.

And he has named it in honour of his late grandfather who he says was his 'best friend' as a youngster.

Nathan welcomed his first customers into the shop, in North Street, Bridgtown last month.

The teenager has sourced all kinds of unusual items. He says that the shop is full of quirky surprises and feature collectibles.

They include refurbished Victorian porcelain dolls that have been given new faces including one with a handmade shrunken head.

Stuffed

A 1920s French boudoir doll has been given a taxidermy rabbit's head and displayed in a Victorian's doll carriage.

Old teddy bears including a 1920s growler bear has already been snapped up. There are also stuffed animals, pictures and other curiosities.

These include 'steampunk' items, a preserved green and yellow parakeet dated from the 1940s, a wet specimen mouse and a medical skeleton dressed in vintage garments.

Another teddy bear for sale is a 1940s old Chiltern bear and a Victorian medical box with the original medicine still inside. Furniture is also being sold such as a Victorian carved Oak chair with the original castors. The seat still has the original horsehair filling.

The teenager says he has always had an interest in collectables and that having his own business is something that runs in the family.

"I've always been interested in antiques, in anything that's unusual or a one-off. I've collected the items myself over the last 12 months or so from trawling car boot sales, antique fairs and auctions.

"When I came across this shop I thought it was fantastic and the perfect place to set up.

Acting

"My parents are in business and I used to work with them in sales. I wanted to do something for myself and came up this idea. I always collected for a hobby," he says.

Nathan, who lives on Coppice Farm Estate, Willenhall, attended Coppice Performing Arts School and New Invention Junior School. When he was younger he was also interested in acting.

He added: "I was into drama at school and I'm a volunteer drama teacher. I had wanted to be an actor, but a few months ago I decided to go into the antiques business as it was also something that I knew about."

His shop is called Grandad's Loft Antiques & Curios in memory of his late grandfather Ken Lockley who died aged 72 about 10 years ago.

"When I was growing up my granddad was my best friend and I wanted to do something to remember him by and this is it.

"That's why I gave the shop that name."

The unit is open Tuesday to Fridays from 9.30am to 4.30pm and Saturdays from 10am to 4pm. Nathan is also on www.facebook.com/grandadsloftcurios

Advice on looking after pet rabbits

PETS At Home stores are holding free workshops offering advice in caring for rabbits responsibly.

They are being held at stores in Cannock and Colton to coincide with Rabbit Awareness Week from May 10 to 18.

The theme of this year's awareness week is 'Change One Thing', demonstrating how simple changes can make a huge difference to the lives of pet rabbits. These changes can be made within any of the five key welfare needs – environment, health, company, behaviour and diet.

To support the event, Pets at Home stores are holding the workshops from noon on Saturday and Sunday, May 10 and 11 and again on May 17 and 18.

Trained store staff will be on hand to provide information and advice on how to keep pet rabbits healthy and happy.

Cannock store manager Joanne Stephens said: "Rabbits are the UK's third most popular pet. They're highly intelligent, social, interactive and fun creatures.

"They have very individual and distinct personalities, and often live to over 10 years old, so having a rabbit as a pet is a long-term commitment."

Performing workshops

ASPIRING stars of the stage can get professional experience at a workshop in Huntington this summer.

Led by former West End leading man Graham Tudor and ex-Hollyoaks star Helen Noble, classes for young actors and performers will be held at Littleton Green Community School from August 18-22. Limited places are available.

It costs for £75 for five days from 9am to 3pm if people join by May 31. Usual price is £99.

Email info@treadproductions.net or call 07739 289995.

Farm market

A POPULAR farmers market returns to Rugeley later this month.

Traders in Rugeley will be selling everything from homemade cupcakes, cheese, pies to handmade arts, crafts and jewellery.

The farmers market is taking place on May 24.

Freedom honour for mascot Watchman

A FOUR-legged military mascot was this week given the Freedom of Hednesford.

Watchman V, a Staffordshire bull terrier, is the mascot for the Staffordshire Regimental Association.

Members of Hednesford Town Council agreed on Tuesday to grant him the freedom of the town.

Town council clerk Peter Harrison said: "The freedom of the town is an honour conferred to recognise outstanding service to the community.

"The town council is aware of the long tradition of military mascots and that Watchman V attends military parades held in the town and therefore very much supports the work carried out by the Hednesford branch of the Staffordshire Regimental Association.

"The town council wishes to acknowledge this and consequently will be granting the freedom of the town."

Watchman V continues to parade with both the 3rd Battalion (Staffords) The Mercian Regiment and 4th Battalion The Mercian Regiment.

Colour Sergeant Greg Hedges is his handler. Watchman V has already been granted freedom of the borough of Tamworth.

Search is on for top father

SHOPPING centre bosses want to recognise the district's Star Pa to coincide with Father's Day.

The search is part of Cannock Shopping Centre's quest to find the area's unsung heroes. Closing date for nominations is May 25.

Email cannockstars@pmwcom.co.uk or post to Cannock Stars, c/o PMW Communications, Stane Court, Stane Street, Billingshurst, West Sussex, RH14 9HP with an explanation.

Include full names and contact numbers along with the age and address of the nominee.

Dance workshop

A BURLESQUE, cabaret and Charleston workshop will be held for women over 18 in Cannock this weekend. It takes place at Avon Business and Leisure Centre in Avon Road, from 1.30 to 4pm on Saturday (May 10). It costs £20. Call 07881 538780 to book.

Film star Grant with Blood Bikers Paul Maddox, Graham Baker and Mark Szamek

Look, Hugh's here for response car unveiling

by Laura Blyth

MOVIE star Hugh Grant left his showbiz circle to make a rare public appearance – in humble Burntwood.

The Notting Hill and About A Boy star paid a surprise visit to the town's rugby club, charming almost everyone who went out to see him unveil a new community first responder car.

And he was the perfect gentleman throughout his two-hour appearance as he met fans and posed for photographs.

At one point Grant dropped a glass trophy he was presenting which drew gasps from the crowd. But the ever-so-suave actor laughed off the clanger, before handing the gong over to its grateful recipient.

Grant was persuaded to help out at the event by his friend Paul Dadge, chairman of Burntwood and District Community First Responders.

Mr Dadge, who lives in Stafford, was hailed a hero after helping a woman to safety following the 7/7 London terror attacks in 2005.

Dapper

Speaking to the 200 guests who packed into a marquee at the rugby club, witty Grant, who looked his usual dapper self in a dark grey suit and blue shirt, said: "It's very nice to be here. I've never done any kind of opening before.

"You may wonder why I'm here. So am I.

"I got 'Dadged'. He was on and on me over the years trying to get my help. I have done absolutely nothing about it. The least I can do is unveil this car.

"The CFR scheme is clearly a brilliant thing and it's amazing to think the car can save someone's life. The new car looks very impressive."

Grant, who once famously dated Liz Hurley, described Staffordshire as 'enchanting', admitting that he couldn't remember if he'd visited the creative county ever before but said he thought he'd filmed a mini-series in the area many years ago.

And the A-list celeb even sarcastically joked with one guest that coming to Burntwood was a 'dream come true'.

The London-born actor, whose career has spanned 30 years during which time he has also starred in Four Weddings and a Funeral, chatted to members of the emergency services including police officers, ambulance staff and volunteers from the British Red Cross.

He handed out awards to groups and companies who support the first responders scheme in Burntwood. He presented gongs to representatives from Cannock-based Veolia Environmental Services and The Marketing People in Burntwood.

Self-confessed fan Emma Wilkins, regional head of community response for West Midlands Ambulance Service, said she was shocked when she heard the award winning actor was going to be there.

The 37-year-old said:" I heard three weeks ago that Hugh was coming down to support us. I must admit, at first I didn't think it would be the real Hugh Grant. I was really excited.

"He seems a really nice guy. I'm a bit of a fan to be honest. I love him in Bridget Jones's Diary.I said a quick hello."

Sue Woodward, who is the Burntwood North county councillor, said the celebrity visit had put Burntwood on the map.

Friendly

She said: "I'm a massive fan of Hugh, who isn't? He is lovely and really friendly.

"It's great for Burntwood. It puts us on the map. Everyone has heard of Burntwood, especially since Steven Sutton's campaign to raise money for The Teenage Cancer Trust. And now we've got a film star here."

Guests at the event included community first responders, police officers, councillors and members of the local community, as well as West Midlands Ambulance Service's chief executive officer, Anthony Marsh and chairman Sir Graham Meldrum. Mr Dadge also spoke, saying community first responders played a vital part in saving lives and said he was pleased with the look of the new vehicle.

After the event, Burntwood Rugby Club said on Twitter: "Just a normal lunchtime at Burntwood Rugby Club with Hugh Grant and guests.

A fantastic event for a very worthy cause - well done to all involved."

Community First Responders (CFRs) are groups of volunteers that respond to emergencies prior to the arrival of an ambulance.

Around £25,000 was raised to buy the new Skoda Octavia Scout response car. The car features roof-mounted solar panels to assist with its charging. The Burntwood responders deal with more than 1,000 call outs each year.

IN MY VIEW

WITH MARK ANDREWS

A PLANNING application submitted to Wolverhampton Council last week sought permission for 'The reconfiguration of existing signage suite'. Or, in English, 'moving the signs outside McDonalds'.

Having just returned from a short break in Holland, three things spring to mind. Firstly, what a beautiful corner of the world it is, with its elegant architecture, lovingly preserved windmills and scenic canals.

If only we were half so good at making the most of our canals and old buildings in the Black Country, then it would be a much better place to live, work and shop.

Secondly, it did strike me how absurd it was that it took just 55 minutes to fly from Birmingham to Amsterdam, the journey ends up taking more than six hours by the time you have negotiated security and customs at either end, found somewhere affordable to park, and spent the customary half hour haggling with the car hire people on arrival.

But most of all, it struck me how terrifying it can be walking around otherwise genteel towns and cities which have been taken over by militant cyclists.

It all looks so respectful in Van Der Valk, where little old ladies in period costume gently amble over the bridges, smiling at the pedestrians walking by.

But in reality, they just come whizzing at you from all directions, manically ringing their bells to order you out of their path. The only thing you can do is play hopscotch as you seek to avoid one after another.

And if you're driving, it is even more un-nerving, as they just shoot across the road at their designated crossing points, without giving a second thought to what might be coming in their direction. Convinced of their own invincibility, these people never give a second thought to the Green Cross code.

But strangest of all is the zeal that people in that country have for cycling. To them, particularly the young, cycling is not simply a hobby or a means of transport, it is a way of life that must never be questioned.

Perhaps it is the result of years of indoctrination in schools, or maybe just something which has been ingrained into their culture through the centuries. But it does serve as a worrying pointer as to what could happen over here in years to come.

Politicians talk benignly about 'the need to encourage cycling'.

Cycling has its place, and maybe if more people were encouraged to use this means of transport, there could be a reduction in congestion on our roads.However, if anybody wants to see what happens when it is unquestioningly accepted as something which should be encouraged at all costs, they should go to Amsterdam.

Working for free to transform lives

Unsung heroes have been rewarded for their voluntary efforts in the community. LAURA BLYTH reports

THEY play a vital role in helping to transform the lives of thousands of disabled and terminally ill children across the country.

And those who help out at The Newlife Foundation charity – based in Cannock – do it all for free.

A team of dedicated individuals give up hours of their own time to help the cause. Not only do they raise cash for the charity, they also help out in the organisation's superstore in Hemlock Way, Hawks Green.

The charity recently held an awards evening to recognise all the hard work of the volunteers.

Newlife Foundation's medical director Professor Michael Patton was on hand to present awards to individuals, groups and organisations who in total have given more than 12,000 hours of their time for the charity.

Fantastic

Their efforts have seen them raise hundreds of thousands of pounds to help support disabled and terminally ill children. Around 30 awards in total were handed out at the ceremony at the Barns Hotel in Cocksparrow Lane, Huntington.

Professor Patton described it as an 'fantastic evening.'

He said: "It is clear Newlife volunteers love being together and love transforming the lives of children across the UK."

Carrick Brown, equipment loans manager for the charity, spoke about the thousands of children who have received equipment from the Newlife Foundation.

Gill Dockery, Margaret Duffy, Professor Michael Patton, Christine Clewlow, Sheila Houghton and Shelagh Gleve at the Newlife awards ceremony

In edition to the Star Awards handed out, three Outstanding Achievement Awards were presented to Carol Edwards from Checkley, Carol Garnett from Cannock and Jacqui Gray from Rugeley. Between them they have raised more than £100,000.

Around 150 volunteers help out at the Newlife Opportunity Centre and the Newlife at Home store. Scores more people raise money regularly for the charity which was set up in 1991.

Newlife provides grants for essential equipment such as pain relieving beds, wheelchairs and communication aids for disabled children. Newlife has funded more than £6 million pounds worth of equipment grants helping children across the UK over the years.

Meanwhile Shirley Rudkin of Chasetown is both the oldest – at the age of 80 – and longest-serving volunteer at the stately Shugborough Hall.

When she first started, there were only two volunteers at the attraction. Fifteen years on she is now surrounded by more than 100 other voluntary workers.

The retired classroom assistant mainly works in the gardens at the popular estate run by Staffordshire County Council. She pulls out weeds, prunes plants and generally tidies up the picturesque grounds.

Mrs Rudkin said: "Fifteen years ago I retired and I wanted something to do.

"I had never volunteered before. There were only two of us at the start. The other volunteer then left and there was just me for a few years. Now there's over 100 volunteers."

Grandmother-of-one Mrs Rudkin volunteers at Shugborough five hours a week.

She added: "I love working at Shugborough. It's such a lovely place. There are so many nice people that come up to me and talk to me ."

Corinne Caddy, deputy manager at Shugborough, said Mrs Rudkin was an 'absolute gem' and 'very popular' with staff and the other volunteers.

Leader

It is not just Shugborough Hall where Mrs Rudkin helps out, she also volunteers for the charity Age UK. She is a walk leader in the area and takes groups out and about on treks.

From showing people to their seats to stocking the ice cream trolley, Lichfield Garrick Theatre volunteer Iva Davies does all kinds of tasks, and she says she loves her role.

The grandmother-of-two only signed up a few months ago to work for free at the city centre theatre.

Before that Mrs Davies, who is aged in her 60s, spent 20 years helping out with organising the annual Lichfield Festival.

The former teacher said:"I love the buzz of the theatre and being in the green room before a show starts is great."

Other tasks carried out by Mrs Davies, from Lichfield, include meeting and greeting theatre goers and collecting tickets. She added: "By volunteering my time I am helping the Garrick to exist "

POLITICS

WITH DANIEL WAINWRIGHT

GEORGE Osborne came under fire from Black Country MPs Valerie Vaz and Ian Austin recently at a time when the Chancellor is basking in the warm glow of an economic recovery.

And he says there are well over one million more people in work now than when the Coalition came to power. Dudley North's Mr Austin is not so sure the good times have reached the West Midlands.

He said: "The only people who are not worse off than they were four years ago are the super-rich? His wilful refusal to accept what every ordinary family in the country know from their daily experience just goes to show how out of touch he is."

But the Chancellor had a few statistics suggesting he thought things were going pretty well in Dudley.

"The honourable gentleman talks about who has felt the benefit of growth. What about the people in his constituency who have got a job, where unemployment has fallen by 17 per cent and youth unemployment is down 18 per cent? What about the 1.5 million people who have got jobs as a result of this Government working through their long-term economic plan?"

And Labour MP Miss Vaz, who represents Walsall South, said: "According to the Office for National Statistics, unemployment in the West Midlands has risen to 8.2 per cent, can the Chancellor explain why?"

But Mr Osborne said unemployment in Walsall South is down 20 per cent and that the number of people in work in the West Midlands dropped while Labour were in power.Mr Osborne has plenty of numbers at his disposal and they appear to be on his side. But the success of his latest budget will be judged on how much money people think they have in their pocket and businesses have in the bank – and whether or not they spend it.

It's sort of obligatory at the moment to talk about Ukip in any politics column. The not-quite new kids on the political block look set to do very well in the European elections but with their new status and popularity comes a heck of a lot of scrutiny.

The moronic individual from London who suggested Dudley's Lenny Henry should move to a 'black country', when in fact he was from the Black Country all along, has stood aside. But Ukip is finding comments people made years ago are coming back to haunt them.

So it was with Walsall Council candidate David Wycherley with his question over the eligibility of Mo Farah to have competed for Team GB in the Olympics, given that he was born in Somalia.

The fact Mr Farah is a British citizen who spent the majority of his life in this country appeared not to give him the the vital clue.

Skaters set wheels in motion for trophies

Roller skaters Samantha Meredith, 10, left, from Norton Canes and Abbie Fryer-Gould, 10, from Willenhall

A CANNOCK skater and her partner have scooped three national medals. Samantha Meredith, from Norton Canes and Abbie Fryer-Gould, from Willenhall, both won medals at the British Roller Skating Championships in Crawley.

Abbie won gold in the freestyle competition, while Samantha came runner-up to win a silver medal. She also skated her way to bronze in the compulsory figures event.

The 10-year-olds skate at the Momentum Artistic Roller Skating Society, which is based at Willenhall E-Act Academy. Head coach Tessa Goodhead said: "It was an all-round performance from both of them that won them the medals. It was a mixture of the choreography, jumps and finesse.

"It was a fantastic achievement considering they have only been skating for around three years.

"We are all really pleased for them and are looking at going abroad so they can compete in some international competitions."

The club set up three years ago and has 35 members ranging from aged four to 18.

Fish bar in breach has its licence withdrawn

AN 'irresponsible' chippie has had its licence revoked after the owner repeatedly ignored warnings to conform to trading laws.

Sea Line Fish Bar, in High Green, Cannock, consistently flouted the law by failing to employ doormen or install CCTV after 11pm, a Cannock Council licensing sub-commitee heard. Owner Umit Maman, who took over the business last September, admitted 22 breaches of the licensing laws.

by Marion Brennan

These included opening until 3am on New Year's Day despite strict warnings that he could not do so.

Catalogue

Licensing chairman Frank Allen said the fish bar was 'badly managed by a man with little regard' for the law.

Police have referred the case to the Crown Prosecution Service which will investigate whether to bring criminal charges.

The committee heard 'a catalogue' of criminal offences had been committed since the 41-year-old from Turkey, opened the business, formerly Chez Woz.

He had failed to notify the council of the new ownership, the name change or new layout as the terms of his licence required.

A new licence was issued but Mr Maman repeatedly ignored warnings to employ a door supervisor from 11pm. He subsequently took on a bouncer but he did not start until midnight.

Mr Maman also claimed not to have understood officials when they spelled out the 19 conditions of his licence because his English was not good enough.

Mr Maman said there had never been any trouble at the premises and despite promises not to flout the licensing laws again, the committee decided he had been given enough chances.

Problems nothing to joke about

I WAS delighted to see the Tories are committing to a local Parliamentary candidate.

However, what we need in Cannock Chase is to bring in more companies paying decent wages, build more affordable homes to rent and have the same NHS provision as the rest of Britain.

Above all, it will take local knowledge and contacts to be able to do this and a celebrity parachuted in maybe good for the media and glossy magazines but not for the people and economy of Cannock Chase.

Labour recognised this by selecting Janos Toth. I am confident whoever the Tory grandees pick, we will show them Cannock Chase people need more than platitudes.

I enjoy a good laugh, which Ken Dodd provides, and in this economic climate we need cheering up. But it will take a lot more than a few jokes to sort out issues.

JOHN KRAUJALIS
Langdale Drive
Cannock

Shocked at growth of racial bigotry

I have been shocked by public attitudes in the last few months. The amount of racial bigotry and general intolerance has grown enormously, and I put this down to the influence of UKIP, stirring up irrational hatred for electoral gain.

Blaming foreigners or those who are 'different' in other ways for society's troubles is the worst sort of political laziness. Anyone who thinks leaving the EU and sending 'foreigners' home will solve all our economic problems is deluded. We are part of a world economy and we need to get used to that.

The real cause of our woes is down to ourselves, the UK electorate. For 30 years we have voted for tax cuts, with politicians encouraging a selfish, get-rich-quick attitude. You cannot have low taxes and good public services. The sums just don't add up! So it is not surprising that public services are being cut, jobs are being lost, and life for many has become harder. That is nothing to do with the EU!

The rich can buy their way out of lousy state services, but this is not possible for most of us. The solution is not a mindless xenophobic lash-out, but for proper social and tax policies to balance individual prosperity and social responsibility. This can only be done in a European Union with the global economic clout a lone UK would lack. The big question is, where is the political leadership to deliver this? Not from UKIP, New Labour, Tories, or Liberals. We need a new Socialist party!

R SMITH, Burntwood

Council's brilliant job avoiding cuts

IN reference to the letter from A Allport (Chronicle, April 24) 'Tax increase the only way to protect services'.

His claim the Labour Party and the leader of Cannock's Labour-run council, George Adamson, have lost their way and have always been financially naive with regard to public services, is ludicrous! Unlike the previous coalition-run council, which made cuts and closures to balance the books, Councillor Adamson and this council, have done a brilliant job over the past few years by avoiding cuts and closures.

Is A Allport not aware the Con/Dem government has forced vicious budget cuts councils, particularly Labour-run ones? Public sector jobs are being cut, and those who remain employed are forced to accept wage increases well below the rate of inflation. So how on earth can workers whose pay has been stagnating, afford a hype in taxes?I suggest A Allport looks at the record of Cannock Council and get the facts straight before making such comments.

Closure of MI unit is a disgrace

CANNOCK Hospital's Minor Injuries Unit is set to close and this is an absolute disgrace. This is a further blow to Cannock Chase residents following the reduced A&E opening hours at Stafford Hospital.

I will be fighting this and urge cross party support to stop the loss of Cannock Minor Injuries Unit. The Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) have got it wrong and this is just about cost cutting. This will have a detrimental effect on people's health.

People in Cannock Chase pay their taxes and national insurance in the same way as anywhere else in the country and should not have to accept second class or reduced NHS provision.

The Government should fully fund our hospital and their changes to the NHS continue to give Cannock Chase residents reduced services.

JANOS TOTH
Cannock Chase Parliamentary Candidate

Don't judge us by actions of others

I LIVE at Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge, on the north end of the gipsy site on the A449 with my own private gate access with nothing to do with the gipsy site south of the village.

I have three kids who go to local schools. They are getting a full education and are getting asked questions at school about an incident that was reported on the other site and which took place on Sunday (April 27) and was reported in the Press. We didn't find out about this incident until my children were asked questions by teachers and kids at school which has affected our family.

The Jones family get on with everyone in the village, do everything to meet the council's needs and all we want is a future for our kids without being judged on the actions of others.

J JONES, Penkridge

Congratulations to all involved in show

ALLO, Allo, what was going on at the Rose Theatre? It was the Rowland's Theatre Company with their latest production French Evening.

Another brilliant performance and another very entertaining cabaret show. Congratulations to all who took part.

We were treated to a performance of hilarious sketches, super dancing and lovely singers. The whole show was so cleverly put together. The Can Can was well danced by the females and very colourful. Songs from Moulin Rouge brought the show to a close with a very satisfied audience.

The whole show was a joy to watch so keep them coming. Au revoir

Lost heritage fear as group to lose storage

Janet and Clive Cartwright and Ron Bradbury with some of the items in the portable building

A HISTORY group is being forced to remove a storage unit full of historical items because the land it stands on is to make way for housing.

The Burntwood Chase Heritage Group faces losing most of the items collected over more than a decade. Members fear they will be unable to find another plot of land on which to permanently house the unit.

It was bought with money from a fundraising evening with historian Professor Carl Chinn and is located at an industrial unit off High Street, Chasetown. It will have to be taken away as a housing development is now planned.

Heritage group chairman Ron Bradbury said the unit could be temporarily housed on neighbouring land, but if a permanent location was not found, they would have to get rid of all the items and the portable building would have to be sold.

Mr Bradbury said: "A local land owner has given us temporary permission to store the unit, but may give us 48 hours notice to move it. It costs around £200 at least to have it moved.

"A permanent site is proving impossible to find, so the only option is to dispose of the stored items and sell the unit."

Mr Bradbury said some artefacts would be kept, like the foundation stone at Hammerwich Hospital, which may be put to use at a new medical centre. He said other items would be offered for sale or taken to a waste tip.

Money from the sale of any items will go towards hiring out guest speakers for the heritage group's popular monthly meetings at St John's Community Church. To help in any way, call Ron Bradbury on 01543 677789.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Hundreds gather to pay Anzac Day respects

AROUND 300 people gathered to pay their respects on Cannock Chase to fallen soldiers from Australian and New Zealand.

The annual Anzac Day parade is held to commemorate the forces from the Australia and New Zealand Army Corps who died in various conflicts.

It is marked in April to remember the sacrifices made at Gallipoli during the First World War.

The April 27 service on Cannock Chase was held at the Commonwealth Cemetery, where 73 First World War soldiers from New Zealand are buried. It is one of few commemorations held outside the two countries.

With this year marking the 100th anniversary since the outbreak of the Great War, attendance surpassed all expectations and nearby car parks were full.

Ex-servicemen and women, representatives from Australian and New Zealand forces, the Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire and civic dignitaries were all in attendance with a host of local families also present and more than 70 regimental standards on parade.

Pipe band looks for new recruits

The Wolverhampton Pipe Band has 18 members and is looking for newcomers to join up

A PIPE band is looking to drum up support for new members.

The Wolverhampton Pipe Band won its first contest in Scotland last year and has started the 2014 season with five first places out of six events entered.

The band, which was originally formed as a sea scout and ranger band in Wednesfield in the 1960s, currently has 18 members but is looking to recruit more. The band opened its membership in the 1970s and now attracts players from Worcester, Shrewsbury and even Manchester, although the majority live in the west Midlands.

Bagpiper Vicki Kennerley, from Cannock, said: "We're now looking to recruit both experienced pipers and drummers and learners. So if you've ever fancied learning to play bagpipes or drums, here's the ideal opportunity for you."

Practice sessions are held at Long Knowle Community Centre, Wednesfield, on Tuesday nights at 7.15. Visit www.wolvespb.org.uk for further information

Growing firm on move

A CONSTRUCTION equipment company is moving its national parts distribution centre to a new site as part of a £10million deal.

Caterpillar dealer Finning currently has its head office at Watling Street but is moving its distribution department to a warehouse at the Kingswood Lakeside Business Park as well as a new branch in Dublin. It has bought the 127,538 sq ft warehouse near the M6 Toll. It is due to open in the summer.

Neil Dickinson, managing director for Finning UK and Ireland, said the company was already planning further expansions.

Enhanced

He said: "It is vital we invest so that we can help our customers make the most of the new opportunities. With this new state-of-the-art operation, we will be able to deliver an enhanced service to our customers, whilst redeveloping the existing parts store to add further capabilities to our head office.

"As part of our investment strategy, we have also secured land in Cannock, next to our headquarters to allow us to plan for further expansion in the future as the economy picks up."

Finning has bought a six-acre site in Dublin with workshop facilities.

A sign of the times in pub talk

CHASE TERRACE

A VERY interesting and lively talk was given by Alan Rose called Hanging Ladies, about pub signs depicting ladies. He is a member of The Inn Sign Society with about 300 members that travel the country taking pictures of pub signs.

It was conceived in 1989 and the inaugural meeting had 20 people. They now have a website and a journal of archives.

The idea of the pub sign came to Britain at the time of the Roman invasion. Wine bars in ancient Rome hung bunches of vine leaves outside as trading signs but when the Romans came here, they found few vines in the inhospitable climate.

During the Middle Ages a large proportion of the population would have been illiterate and so pictures on a sign were more useful than words as a means of identifying a pub. An interesting, unwritten rule is that a reigning monarch is never depicted on a pub sign. They have however got around this by naming a pub The Star and Garter. The name originates from an abbreviation of the name of the insignia belonging to Order of the Garter. The sign depicts a wax model of The Queen presenting it to a recipient.

One of the shortest lived female signs was The Tanya's Charms. A local girl made it on to the cover of a "lads mag" posing nude. The pub decided to have a picture of her on their sign but it only lasted a couple of days before objections by locals led to the removal of the sign.

Two members given long-service awards

Soroptimists Doreen Smith and Christine James with team president Pam McGauley

CANNOCK SOROPTIMISTS

TWO members of SI Cannock & District were presented with certificates for 30 years of service to and membership of Soroptimist International.

Outgoing team president Pamela McGauley presented the long-service certificates to Christine James and Doreen Smith, congratulating them on the work they have done to promote the aims of Soroptimism and improve the lives of women and girls.

The club has many long-standing members, all of whom enjoy the friendship of membership alongside the action they take to help women both locally and globally.

At the next business meeting two new members will be inducted into the club bringing the membership to 40. The next speaker meeting will be on May 20 when author David Bell will be giving an amusing talk of Staffordshire myths and legends entitled "Up the Garden Path". The stories he tells are all taken from his books.

Meetings are held 6.30 for 7pm at The Barns Restaurant in Huntington and include a two-course meal.

Any woman wishing to come along to find out more is very welcome – call or text 07971 494510 or email si.cannock@outlook.com

Petition to save bus passes

THE March Luncheon Club venue was the Trafalgar Inn. Sixteen members attended and many members complimented staff on the quality of food and value for money.

At the guild meeting there was an illustrated and entertaining talk by Ian Bott entitled 'A Grave Subject'.

HEDNESFORD 'A' TG

To celebrate Easter, the ladies had a hot cross bun with their tea and signed a petition to 'save our bus passes'. The May meeting will see a visit from Diane Craig talking about the benefits of physiotherapy. Several members were in stitches of laughter generated by the comedian at the Federation dinner held at the Masonic Hall, Aldridge.

Guild meetings are held the second Monday of each month at 2pm at St Peter's Church Hall, Hednesford. Newcomers always welcome. Details from Doreen on 01543 877987.

COMPETITION

Popular air show all set for take off

HAVING run for more than 20 years, and winning two major awards last year, the RAF Cosford Air Show is a popular day out with children and parking free.

The Chronicle series is giving readers the chance to attend this wonderful experience on Sunday, June 8 with eight pairs of tickets to be won.

Whether it's reminiscing about the 'Good Old Days' while watching the Battle of Britain Memorial Flight or standing in awe of the Red Arrows who are celebrating their 50th Anniversary, the six-hour flying display holds delights for all.

Other military aircraft in the flying display are the RAF Chinook and Army Apache taking part in an exciting demonstration of their combat capabilities along with the Tucano displaying in a special 'Lest We Forget' paint scheme. Civilian aircraft include the Breitling Wing Walkers, the Canberra PR9 and the ever popular Vulcan. There is a large indoor craft fair along with three hangars containing interactive displays showcasing the best of both the Royal Air Force and local organisations, including open aircraft allowing you to sit in the cockpits.

Arena

Outside there will be a funfair, arena displays including Field Gun teams, food vendors and traders.

Tickets are £20 in advance, £25 on the day (cash only and subject to availability) and free for children under 16 when they are accompanied by an adult. Car parking is free.

Tickets can be purchased at www.cosfordairshow.co.uk or by calling the credit/debit card 24-hour ticket line: 0871 230 1083 (calls are 10p per min plus network charges). All profits go to local and service charities.

Improvement in service

COUNCIL bosses say cutting the cost of running its benefits claimants service has improved performance – after new figures revealed the time to process claims is among the lowest in the county.

Stafford Borough Council and Cannock Chase District Council have been sharing services since 2011 – a move that saves each authority around £200,000 a year.

Figures from the Department for Work and Pensions show Cannock processing new claims at an average of eight days with Stafford taking 11. The national average is 22.

Financial adviser in £478,000 deception

A CROOKED financial adviser defrauded a string of victims out of hundreds of thousands of pounds after claiming their money would be invested in property schemes and solar panels.

by Lisa O'Brien

Mark Lewis, of Hednesford, pocketed the cash instead, Stafford Crown Court heard.

He had promised to invest money from more than half a dozen different people in a series of frauds that spanned more than four years.

The 50-year-old claimed each of his victims would be repaid with additional interest – in some cases of around 25 per cent.

He this week pleaded guilty to misleading eight different victims in frauds which amounted to £478,000.

In some cases, Lewis claimed the money would be invested into properties that would be renovated and sold on at a profit in order to get a financial return.

Invest

Prosecutor Mr Rupert Jones said many victims, who come from all over the West Midlands, were retired and some of them had even lost their life savings.

One, Raymond Morris, was told by Lewis that he intended to invest more than £150,000 of his money in property or land schemes and he would be repaid with an interest rate of up to 20 per cent.

Another, John Burke, was conned after being told his £130,000 would be used to purchase properties which would be renovated and sold on to make a profit.

He was promised a return with an interest rate of almost 20 per cent.

Lewis told other victims he would invest their money in the supply of solar panels.

Mr Jones said: "He was taking money from people telling them it would be invested in property and later in solar panels.

"He was offering people unreal rates of return.

"Some people lost their life savings. There were also a lot of retired people who were targeted."

Lewis, of Oakdene Close, appeared in court wearing a blue suit and tie.

He spoke only to confirm his name and admitted 16 charges of fraud, which spanned from May 2008 to September 2012, during the hearing.

Officers from both Staffordshire and the West Midlands had investigated the matters.

During Tuesday's hearing, Lewis was represented by Mr Anthony Bell.

The case was adjourned for a pre-sentence report to be prepared.

Lewis will be brought back to Stafford Crown Court to be sentenced on Wednesday, May 28 and was given conditional bail until that date.

Adjourning the case, Judge Mark Eades gave no indication as to the sentence Lewis should expect to receive.

New recruit as media team is five-years-old

A CANNOCK social media company has added to its team as it celebrates its fifth birthday.

Market Avenue Limited was started by Anna Woolliscroft in 2009 and has since grown dramatically in size. It now has an in-house team of five members of staff and three freelancers. The latest addition is social media engager Abbi Walker.

Abbi, aged 21, from Great Haywood, graduated from Durham University with a degree in psychology.

She said: "My role is to engage in conversations on various social media platforms, responding to comments and being proactive. Social media has changed the way we communicate and I find it fascinating exploring how it works and the different ways we now interact."

Creative director Anna Woolliscroft has a background in marketing communication, a degree in media and cultural studies and CIM qualifications. The 36-year-old, from Four Ashes, started the company as a solo entrepreneur.

She said: "I never envisaged growing as we have done, but we still have several clients who have been with us from the start and continually get offered more work from new clients."

Baby May is born to rein down at the farm

CHRISTMAS has come early at a farm near Rugeley where the first baby reindeer of the year has been born.

While the month of May is traditionally renowned for morris dancing and maypoles, at Blithbury Reindeer Lodge it was marked by the arrival of a cute female calf – named May.

The Lodge, which is home to England's largest working reindeer herd, is expecting several arrivals this month, which is traditionally when reindeer calves are born.

The new arrival, however, was eager to make an early appearance by arriving on the morning of May 1 to Honeyfloss, herself born at the site.

Lodge owner Steve Swinnerton said "We're all delighted that May has arrived safely and that Honeyfloss is proving to be a natural mum.

Attentive

"Reindeer are very delicate creatures and unfortunately that means that many calves don't survive being born. May isn't out of the woods yet but between her attentive mum and the staff here at the Lodge she's in the best possible hands.

"She's as cute as a button, we didn't have to wait long for her."

Mr Swinnerton, widely known as The Reindeer Man because of his unrivalled knowledge of the animals, hires out the creatures for Christmas events and television shoots.

He has been successfully breeding and training reindeer for almost 20 years, moving to Blithbury eight years ago where he has lovingly converted the former dairy farm into a purpose-built reindeer farm.

He is also one of the founding members of the British Reindeer Herders Association, an organisation set up to protect the welfare of reindeer in the UK through a licensing, training and support programme. The lodge, which boasts a 150-strong herd, has a zoo licence and is the only place in the country where the public can get up close and feed the reindeer.

Honeyfloss keeps on eye on baby reindeer May at Blithbury Reindeer Lodge

The animals, all either homebred or imported from Scandinavia, have been losing their coats over the last couple of months but these will grow back by August/September. Mr Swinnerton opens the centre to the public on key dates throughout the year, including the six weeks leading up to Christmas for sleigh rides. Festivalgoers heading for Middle of Nowhere

Up and coming duo Mona Lisa Twins will be among the acts at Middle of Nowhere Festival near Penkridge

BANJO player Dan Walsh performs close to home as one of the headline acts at a music festival near Penkridge.

The Stafford musician, billed as the world's finest claw hammer banjo player, performs at the Middle of Nowhere Festival at Lower Drayton Farm, from July 18 to 20.

He will headline the acoustic tent on the opening day, supported by trio Gin Sunday. Acts on the main stage include rock covers band Herbacious Borders. Birmingham-based The Broombusters take centre stage with their signature blend of rhythm & blues, ska and reggae. Saturday's acts promise to be even more impressive, with Dr Feelgood – of 'Milk and Alcohol' fame – topping the bill.

Programme

The acoustic programme features Chris B, The Taskers, Ry Cleary, Anthony Small and Owen Charlton, while main stage acts include The Blue Tuesdays, Hollie Vee and the Hubkaps, upcoming duo The Mona Lisa Twins – 19-year-old sisters who are winning critical acclaim – and Brummie rockers Aceldama.

The blues, rock and folk event has attracted some top names over the past decade and has continued to grow since moving to lower Drayton Farm two years ago.

A festival spokesman said: "In addition to great live music, this family-friendly festival offers a host of other activities. Circus workshops, a green craft field with holistic therapies and children's craft activity area, fairground rides, Maize Maze and pony rides are sure to keep revellers busy."

Day and weekend camping tickets are now on sale, priced at £50 and £25 respectively – or £45/£22.50 if bought in advance online a www.lowerdraytonfarm.co.uk – accompanied under 16s half price. Tickets also available by calling 07817 691352.

Four-year term over attack with a hammer

AN attacker who hit a man with a claw hammer, leaving him with serious face and eye injuries, has been jailed for four years.

Daniel Jancic of Rugeley had gone looking for revenge following an incident involving his mother at the town's taxi rank, a court heard.

His victim was walking home with his partner and another couple in Western Springs Road when Jancic came up and struck him in the face with the hammer.

The defendant said to the victim: "I know it's you" and he was tackled by the other couple. They managed to get the hammer and a crowbar off Jancic and throw the weapons into a hedge.

Miss Heather Chamberlain, prosecuting, said it was clear that the victim was seriously hurt with a gash to the bone above his right eye. He was taken to his father's house, but then to hospital to undergo surgery the same day for a fractured forehead and a ruptured eyeball.

Daniel Jancic – jailed

Inflicted

Jancic, aged 23, of Alan Birt Walk, admitted wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

Recorder Miss Sally Hancox told him: "You had no right to take the law in to your own hands.

"The injuries inflicted will have an impact for months and probably years after."

Stafford Crown Court heard the incident had begun in the early hours of September 8 last year. Miss Chamberlain said the victim, his partner, her brother and his wife had been out for a meal in Rugeley and were waiting for a taxi in Anson Street.

When they got in to a cab, there was an altercation with another group, members of the defendant's family, during which his mother was knocked to the ground.

The victim and his companions left the taxi and started to walk home when one of them shouted 'he's got a hammer'. The victim then felt a blow to his head.

After the attack, two of the party went back to the scene and saw three other people searching the hedgerow. They left when police arrived and the hammer and crowbar were recovered.

Following his arrest, Jancic told police he had received a call from his brother which made him angry and he went out looking for his parents. He saw a group of people and one was boasting about knocking someone over.

Mr Mark Nicholls, defending, said: "He is very remorseful."

Candidates in town to launch Euro objectives

LABOUR candidates were in Cannock Chase last weekend to launch the party's European objectives.

The would-be MEPs met Cannock Chase's parliamentary candidate Janos Toth and district council leader George Adamson together with local party activists.

Labour's European candidates for the West Midlands pledge to create jobs for young people, invest in advanced manufacturing, cap bankers' bonuses, protect the NHS, stand-up for workers' rights and reform Europe, ensuring EU funding is spent on infrastructure, energy and innovation.

Labour's number one European candidate for the West Midlands Neena Gill said: "Labour's European candidates will deliver for the people of Cannock.

Fellow European candidate Siôn Simon added: "It is totally unacceptable that 420 18-to-24 year-olds in Cannock are unemployed. Cannock's young people need worthwhile jobs and our youth jobs guarantee will help rectify the legacy of this government.

"We want to build on Cannock's proud heritage in manufacturing and bring more high quality manufacturing opportunities to the town though targeted EU investment funds."

LLANDANWG
HOLIDAY PARK

Five-star park is beautifully kept

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

CARAVAN holiday home owners at a caravan park beside the beautiful Artro estuary are able to take to the seas with ease, thanks to the relaxed attitude of the local sailing club.

Residents at Llandanwg Holiday park which nestles in the quiet village of Llandanwg, north of Barmouth, are fortunate to have access to boat moorings, they are also able to launch sailing and motor boats from the sailing club slipway, just minutes away from their holiday homes.

Owners are thrilled to be able to launch into the protected estuary at such an idyllic spot.

Stroll

"It's great for our owners here, there's a bit of work digging the mooring, for a nominal fee when joining the club. Owners can simply stroll from their holiday home down to the beach for a day at sea," said Peter Richards manager of Llandanwg Holiday Park.

"What could be better after a week of hard work, than to relax out in the bay for the day, then stroll back up to the park for a barbecue as the sun sets?"

Swimming and fishing are also very popular on this award-winning clean beach.

Llandanwg Holiday Home Park is a beautifully kept five-star premier park situated between Barmouth and the historic town of Harlech, overlooking Tremadog Bay and close to many excellent quality restaurants and pubs serving home cooked food and real ales. Owners on the park boast about the tranquil location and the beautiful views which can be seen from the comfort of their holiday homes.

The park has 95 privately owned holiday homes and is open from March to January, with access to free wi-fi, laundry facilities and on-site tourist information.

The park offers a select Holiday Home Ownership lifestyle at an affordable price and stocks a selection of new and pre-owned models for viewing.

Victoria Falls
Botswana Safari and Cape Town

Beginning in Zambia, staying close to the spectacular Victoria Falls, the largest single body of falling water in the world, a sunset cruise along the mighty Zambezi on the African Queen will be the first spectacular experience. As the boat glides across this expanse of a river inhabited by hippo and crocodiles, simply relax in a wicker armchair and absorb the unique surroundings.

At Victoria Falls, a guided walking tour is included with other options to view the spectacular falls from either a cruise, a helicopter flight or from a micro-light aircraft.

On the Botswana Safari travel in a specially adapted 10-seater open-sided safari vehicle and see a wide variety of game including monkeys, warthogs and even leopards plus the chance to see cats, giraffe and elephants – it's an experience not to be forgotten so remember to pack a camera!

A second cruise, this time along the Chobe River, almost guarantees sightings of elephant and hippo, then a visit to Cape Point passes the fishing harbour of Hout Bay. Continuing on, see the breathtakingly scenic Chapman's Peak Drive, full of rugged seascapes and cliffs to the Cape of Good Hope Nature Reserve.

At Cape Point itself see the confluence of the Indian and Atlantic Ocean then it's on to Boulders Beach to see the resident penguin colony.

On the Winelands tour, a visit to the small town of Franschoek is included home to South Africa's most prestigious university and where period buildings and historic streets reinforce the town's dignified atmosphere. A cellar tour and tasting at the award-winning Boschendal Wine Estate is included.

The touring holiday ends in Cape Town. Take time to explore the excellent shopping and dining available, take the cable car to the summit of Table Mountain and, weather permitting, visit Robben Island where Nelson Mandela spent most of his 27 years incarceration.

On the ball as tournament kicks off

Stefan Popovic, Joe Macguire, Joe Allman, Jack Ratcliffe and James Harper promote the new football tournament

TEAMS are being invited to sign up for a series of new football tournaments being launched in Cannock this month.

Four tournaments will be held for over 16 and veteran teams at the Liam Keeling Arena at Cardinal Griffin School in Cannock.

Nine teams are invited to sign up to each tournament, with the first set to take place next Wednesday, May 14.

Organiser Pop Popovic said: "The tournaments will take place on Wednesday nights in May and June. We are encouraged to have full use of the arena in the summer. We hope teams will continue to use it."

Teams must be six-a-side but there can up up to 10 players in each squad. Entry fee will be £30 per team per tournament.

The winning team from each tournament will be allowed to enter the next one for free. Matches will take place between 7 and 9.30pm. To sign up, call Mr Popovic on 07806 602606 or email score6aside@gmail.com

Housing estates on rise

THE number of new large housing estates being built in the West Midlands has gone up by a quarter since a shake-up of planning rules, new statistics show.

Figures show councils across nine boroughs and districts approved 33 more large-scale housing estates – those with at least 10 homes – last year than they did in 2011. Nationally the number increased by a quarter from 2,956 in 2010/11 to 4,931 in 2013/14.

In South Staffordshire the number of approved large-scale developments doubled from two to four.

Dropped

Cannock Chase approved the same number in 2013 as it did two years previously, while in Lichfield the number dropped slightly. Barratt Homes and Taylor Wimpey want to develop land off Milestone Way in Burntwood with up to 380 homes planned.

The availability and cost of housing is likely to be a key part of the General Election campaign next year.

Labour has pledged to introduce three-year tenancy agreements with strict rules to make it more difficult to evict tenants. The Tories have announced they want councils to make land available for people to build their own homes.

Up for the cup as sport bar is ready to party

Owner Scott Murray with head chef Robert Carter as Bar Sport gears up for the World Cup

A CANNOCK sports bar is getting ready to kick off the biggest World Cup celebrations in the Midlands.

Staff at Bar Sport, in High Green, will be turning the venue into a carnival of football fun over the summer.

Former England defender Norman Hunter, who was in the 1966 World Cup winning squad, but never appeared, has been booked for the country's third Group D match against Costa Rica on Tuesday, June 24.

England kick off their campaign on Saturday June 14 against Italy where compere Steve Kindon will be joined by Wolves greats Steve Bull and Steve Daley.

On Thursday June 19 England take on Uruguay with former Manchester United European Cup winning goalkeeper Alex Stepney as special guest.

Scott Murray, owner of Bar Sport, said: "This is going to be one of the biggest World Cups tournaments ever. Brazil haven't staged the World Cup on their patch since 1950 and the atmosphere over there will be incredible – a real carnival atmosphere.

"We want to try and recreate a similar atmosphere at Bar Sport. All three of our rooms will be absolutely rammed full of fans and we have some very special guests who will be attending each England game and cheering the team on. If England progress then we will be inviting more special guests to attend during the games.

"We won't just be celebrating the England games though. We will be showcasing all of the World Cup games throughout the tournament. It is going to be a fantastic summer of football."

To book a table at Bar Sport for the games ring 01543 572092.

Free dog microchipping

DOG owners whose pets are not yet microchipped can get it done for free this weekend. A mobile team of veterinary nurses, provided by the Dogs Trust, will microchip the dogs on Saturday, May 10 at the Maypole Carnival in Hednesford Park between 11am and 4pm – as organised by the Friends of Hednesford Park.

Cannock Chase Council has been working in conjunction with the Dogs Trust to provide a free micro-chipping service for dog owners in view of the Government's intention to make micro-chipping compulsory for April 2016.

Father is honoured over son's top award

A BUILDING contracts manager from Cannock has won a top award, posthumously.

James Bould, of Wolverhampton Road, a father of six-year-old twins Sian and Kian, died in January from a brain tumour at the age of 36.

His father Harold picked up the The Build in Quality Award, in The Small Housing Private Sector category, on his behalf at the Celebrating Construction Awards.

The accolade was in recognition of one of James' last contracts in Wolverhampton, the Showell Road development, constructed for Midland Heart. It was presented by Mayor of Birmingham Mike Leddy at the city's ICC. TV presenter Mark Durden-Smith hosted the event.

Award notes in the event programme said: "James was a young talented member of the construction industry, progressing his career forward, undertaking contracts manager roles on several contracts."

Award – James Bould

Challenges

It added James' world took a dramatic change of direction in August 2010 when he was diagnosed with a serious brain tumour.

"James was a guy who met challenges of life 'head on' and faced with this setback decided that although he already had one full-time job as contracts manager at Thomas Vale he would take on another full-time job of fighting against this tumour.

"This fight involved surgery and ongoing chemo and radiotherapy and yet throughout these diversions from his contracts management duties he was always in constant touch with members of his team and was directing the course of his projects via his laptop and mobile."

James' three-year battle finally began to take its toll just before the handover of Showell Road and he was forced to just concentrate on fighting his tumour.

The programme adds: "James was a young man of only 36 years who inspired everyone who worked with him and for him.

"James was admired by many of his friends and colleagues and will always be remembered for the courageous way he fought for both his career, his young family and to prolong his own life."

Father Harold, of Lower Road, Hednesford, said it was a very emotional night: "There was a standing ovation for James and I was proud to pick up the award in his memory," he said.

Free childcare scheme across county extends

A SCHEME giving parents with two-year-olds up to 15 hours of free childcare is being extended.

Staffordshire County Council launched the Think 2 scheme last September.

The free childcare is provided by local nurseries, child minders or pre-schools to parents who receive benefits or are on a low income.

Bosses say it has been a huge success and is being extended so that more parents can benefit.

Parents who receive Working Tax Credits, as well as those meeting the benefits criteria for free school meals will now be eligible. Councillor Mike Lawrence, cabinet member for children, said: "We have been incredibly pleased with the success of the scheme so far and know that it has helped many more parents get back to work or learn new skills.

"Many parents tell us that they would like to return to work, but find it difficult to do so because of a lack of suitable and affordable childcare.

"That's where our scheme and the free 15 hours has made a huge difference and why we decided to extend it to help even more parents.

Buckingham Palace

star extra TRAVEL

See inside the most famous home in the world – Buckingham Palace. This magnificent building has served as the official residence of Britain's sovereigns since 1837. And when The Queen travels to Balmoral each summer the doors are opened to the public.

Inside there are 19 State Rooms to explore which are used extensively by The Queen and members of the Royal Family to receive and entertain their guests on State, ceremonial and official occasions.

They are furnished and decorated with priceless works of art that form part of the Royal Collection, including paintings by Van Dyck and Canaletto, sculptures by Canova and exquisite pieces of porcelain. Highlights include the Throne Room, State Dining Room, the Ballroom and the White Drawing room, which is perhaps the most spectacular.

Visitors will also be able to admire the 39-acre garden which features more than 350 types of flower, over 200 trees and a three-acre lake.

Wolves boss Stan Cullis and his players admire the championship trophy they won in 1954

FA Cup triumph for West Bromwich Albion in 1954

Jim Sanders can't bear to watch as Ronnie Allen makes in 2-2 from the spot

It's 1954 and football kings of the Black Country reign supreme

SIXTY years ago,Black Country football stood at the very summit.

Last Thursday marked the anniversary of Albion's 1954 FA Cup triumph which brought to a climax what must be considered the finest season in the history of the region's football.

In these few square miles of hotly-contested turf between Molineux and The Hawthorns, come the evening of May 1, 1954, English football had to concede supremacy. Wolves, champions a week earlier, had deprived their neighbours of what would have been the 20th century's first double.

For compensation, runners-up Albion had to content themselves with a 3-2 FA Cup triumph over Preston North End, another major force at the time.

But the dual triumph made the pair the kings of the era while writing an epic chapter to a rivalry that thrives to this day. The surviving members of the thousands of Baggies fans who poured down to Wembley will be dwindling in numbers now but they

MEMORY LANE
by Martin Swain

surely cling to the memory of this period. This would be the start of Wolves' greatest years with a team that swept forward powerfully and quickly and thrilled to the wing play of Mullen and Hancocks.

Albion's rise with an older group of players which did not have the youthful back-up Stan Cullis had foreseen at Molineux, would be more short-lived. But the team of '54 is no less fabled. Coached by the under-regarded Vic Buckingham, they produced the kind of game with which Hungary had humiliated England the previous November.

"The Team of the Century" one commentator memorably labelled them and to this day they are still regarded as the club's finest.With Wolves winning their first Championship, there would be one further echo of this collision of rivals and stylists the following September when they contested the Charity Shield. As was the custom, the game was staged at the home of the league champions and 45,000 fans gathered at Molineux to see the fireworks. And fireworks they got as Albion twice came back from two-goal deficits to draw the game 4-4.

Watching from the sidelines, a young member of the Wolves groundstaff had his imagination fired. Ron Atkinson says today:"There was no-one taking any prisoners. But they were two fantastic teams, it's as simple as that. We all just watched in wonder really."

Behind the outcome of this Wolves-Albion head-to-head 60 years ago, lie all manner of curiosities and even conspiracy theoriesBack then, representative football took priority and having largely ignored the 66-goal partnership between Ronnie Allen and Johnnie Nicholls, the FA's selection panel suddenly picked both for a Scotland-England game at Hampden on the same day Albion would be facing Wolves.

The gold and black would be without Billy Wright and Jimmy Mullen for the same reason but absence of the two forwards was deemed a greater loss in most circles. Was there mischief to this? The Albion corner will always believe the influential Wright recommended the Allen-Nicholls call-ups to balance out his team's handicap. Wolves won the game 1-0 but the reverberations continued for many a year.

The outstanding 'playmaker' Ray Barlow had to play up front and having scored a couple against Wolves the previous season, legend has it Wolves defender Bill Shorthouse gave him a blunt warning: "You won't be scoring two today, mate."

Whether by accident or design, Barlow took a meaty challenge from Shorthouse and limped out to passenger status on the wing. When, years later, Allen took over as Wolves manager one of his first acts was to give youth coach Shorthousehis cards.

Separately, Albion and Wolves went toe-to-toe as fiercely as ever to dispute the biggest club trophies football had to offer back then.But together, on this night 60 years ago, they reigned supreme.

War camps talk topic

STEPHEN Dean, the county Archaeologist, will address the latest meeting of Norton Canes Historical Society next week. The meeting is on Tuesday, May 13, from 7pm at the village library in Burntwood Road. His subject is the First World War One Camps on Cannock Chase. Admission is free.

Speaking to families a priority of NHS chief

HE'S been set the unenviable task of curing a health service still hurting from the fallout of the Stafford Hospital crisis.

Simon Stevens – a former health adviser to Tony Blair – is four weeks into his new jobs as chief executive at NHS England and admits there is still 'a lot more to do' to restore universal patient pride and trust.

The 47-year-old Brummie also revealed that, unlike his predecessor Sir David Nicholson, he made meeting the families of patients who suffered at the hands of Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust a top priority.

Listening to staff and patients is central to the new NHS he will lead, he said.

"I took the opportunity in my first week in post to meet with relatives and nurses from Mid Staffs and Robert Francis QC to hear about what had gone on there and to make sure I was up to speed with the lessons that needed to be learned," said Mr Stevens.

NHS boss Simon Stevens

Safety

"I consider that a very important moment in pointing out across the NHS we need a new culture of openness where people's concerns about quality and safety are listened to very carefully."

He added: "What I'm trying to do in my first few weeks as NHS England chief executive is get out and about around the country talking to staff, patients, carers to find out the state of play and what people think are the things we need to get right for the future."

Mr Stevens, who joins NHS England from US private health care firm UnitedHealth Group, is also supporting the reforms recommended by Robert Francis QC who led the public inquiry into failing standards of care at Stafford Hospital.

The son of a baptist minister father and a public health official mother, Mr Stevens is a product of the NHS graduate programme.

He grew up in the Shard End area of East Birmingham before going to Oxford University, Strathclyde University and Columbia University in New York.

He said: "We are in year five of the longest and toughest budget squeeze that the NHS has seen in its 66-year history.

"We now need to take a new look at the way care is organised in many parts of the country if we are to make the health service sustainable and high quality over the next five to 10 years.

He added: "I think there are lots of opportunities to do things better which will also save money."

Councillors hear of rising Food Bank demand

THE Cannock and District Food Bank, operated by Pye Green Christian Centre in Hednesford, is seeing demand rising across the whole of the south of Staffordshire, councillors were told.

County Councillors George Adamson and Sue Woodward visited the centre last Thursday (May 1) to see first-hand how their operations work and to hear of the challenges the Food Bank is facing.

Set up in November 2012, and supported by more than 120 volunteers, the Food Bank distributes emergency food supplies via 12 centres across the area. Between April 2013 and March 2014, it supported 3,892 people. The Food Bank takes referrals from more than 70 agencies including social services and Citizens' Advice Bureaux.

Councillor Adamson said: "The people who run the Food bank are doing a brilliant job. Without them there would be many people in really dire straits, often through no fault of their own."

Councillor Woodward said: "It is a disgrace that emergency food supplies like this are needed in this country in the 21st century. It is heart-warming that so many local people donate so generously to help those in need."

Memorial could get more bricks

EVEN more named bricks could be added to a miners' memorial in Hednesford, it has been revealed.

Thousands of people turned out for the dedication of the third and final phase of the project last month. The service on April 26 was led by the Rt Rev Nigel McCulloch, the former Bishop of Manchester.

Now the group behind the scheme say they can't rule out another phase if there is enough interest.

Project manager Mike Mellor, from Chase Arts in Public Spaces (Chaps), said: "Lots of people came up to us at the dedication event, asking if we were going to do anymore phases.

Iconic

"If we had sufficient interest we might consider doing it."

A further 913 named bricks, remembering those who worked in the Cannock Chase coalfields, were laid around the grass areas by the clock tower in the town centre and adjacent to the iconic Davy Lamp statue.

It brought the total number of bricks up to more than 3,000.

Chaps received applications for named bricks, costing £20, from as far away as Canada.

Museum on treasure trail as Hoard exhibition starts

AN exhibition looking at the different types of treasure found at the Staffordshire Hoard has opened up to members of the public.

Treasure! Discovering the Staffordshire Hoard is on display at the Museum of Cannock Chase.

It has been developed by Staffordshire County Council as part of the Mercian Trail and features videos, replicas and reproductions of the treasure found in Hammerwich.

by Charlotte Lilley

The hoard is the largest collection of Anglo-Saxon treasure ever found in the UK. It was discovered by metal detectorist Terry Herbert in a field belonging to farmer Fred Johnson in July 2009.

Julie Shires, booking officer, said: "The exhibition tells the story of how the treasure was found and there are various videos and interactive displays for visitors to watch and explore.

Exciting

"There are Anglo-Saxon costumes that both adults and children will be able to try on and we will be running a series of workshops for children who will be able to design their own jewellery and shields.

"It was a very exciting time when the treasure was found right on our doorstep and I know it generated a lot of interest so I am looking forward to welcoming lots of people through our doors."

The exhibition runs until Sunday, June 22. Drop-in arts and craft sessions for youngsters will be held from 11am on May 27 and 29.

Last month, the museum in Valley Road, Hednesford, opened its permanent exhibition, Mining Memories, following a £150,000 revamp. The project which includes interactive displays and a crawl-through tunnel, was mainly paid for by a £97,500 grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund.

Miss Shires added: "The exhibition has been really popular and lots of children and their parents have enjoyed exploring the different interactive displays.

"These are exciting times for the museum and I am looking forward to seeing more visitors enjoying what we have to offer with the new Staffordshire Hoard exhibition."

The museum is open daily from 11am to 5pm with last admission at 4.30pm. Call 01543 877666 for more details.

Olive Branch fourth birthday

AN agency that provides practical help to vulnerable adults in the Burntwood area is celebrating its fourth birthday.

The Olive Branch Home Help and Support agency was set up on May 16 2010 by Helen Richards. Her vision was to look after clients with high quality care that meets their needs and enables them to live independently in their own homes. The company's services are now available in Norton Canes, Heath Hayes, Cannock, Lichfield and the surrounding areas.

These include cleaning, gardening, shopping, sitting with loved ones, washing, ironing, socialising, pet care and support with getting to appointments or social events.

The Olive Branch manager has started to work with new members of staff to ensure the new clients receive the support they need. For details call Helen on 01543 677974.

Council to take its fight against HS2 to parliament

ANOTHER council in one of the areas to be hit by HS2 has revealed it will fight the project in parliament.

by Rob Golledge

The move by Lichfield District Council could cost more than £60,000.

The authority is to officially 'petition' the £50 billion scheme, which means it will have officially declared its opposition and may get the chance to appear before government officials to state their case.

Staffordshire County Council has already agreed to spend around £200,000 fighting HS2 through Parliament.

Around 12 miles of countryside in the Lichfield area will be affected by the first phase of HS2 – including the demolition of the historic clubhouse of Whittington Heath Golf Club.

The line will enter the county from Warwickshire and loop through Streethay and onto Handsacre near Rugeley where it will join up with the West Coast Main Line.

Lichfield MP Michael Fabricant is opposing the proposed route through his constituency and led a small Tory revolt at a key vote which moved the scheme a step closer to reality.

A report to the Lichfield Council said it could cost up to £10,000 to submit its petition to parliament, a further £15,000 of work in the build up to the select committee stage and another £40,000 during the select committees.

It added: "While holding the view that the principle of HS2 is wrong, efforts have been made by the district council, working with partners, to ensure that if the development is approved and takes place then the impacts are fully and appropriately mitigated.

"Although much effort and time has been expended to influence the final route design and proposed mitigation measures, the proposals contained in the Hybrid Bill do not fully address the concerns articulated by local residents, this council or Staffordshire County Council."

Reach out and celebrate county

FAMILIES can join local schools for an activity-packed afternoon to celebrate Staffordshire next weekend.

REAch2 Academy Trust is staging the free event at Shugborough Outdoor Education Centre from 2-5pm on Saturday, May 17.

Attractions on offer at the Celebrating Staffordshire event will include entertainment from local artists, together with a barbecue, coconut shy, Punch and Judy, bouncy castle, face painting, craft and welly wanging.

Heath Hayes, Norton Canes and Springhill Primary School, Burntwood, all became REAch 2 academies in January. Children from each of the schools will take part in a bake off and put on their own performances and presentations.

For more details visit www.reach2.org

Tennis club looks to net new members

Members of Etching Hill Tennis Club hope visitors to an open day take advantage of the club's facilities

TENNIS fans can see what is on offer at a Rugeley club next weekend.

Etching Hill Tennis Club is staging an open day at the club, next to the village hall on East Butts Road, from 11am to 4pm on Saturday, May 17.

As well as offering a look around the facilities, it will also feature a speed gun test and a bar. Food is also being served throughout the day.

The club boasts three courts and plays in the both the Staffordshire and Burton Tennis Leagues. It has a thriving social section, while members can enjoy non-competitive games as well as group and individual coaching sessions.

For more details on the open day, contact Ian on 01543 585462 or Steve on 07851 199473.

New drive to improve education standards

COUNCIL chiefs have launched a drive to ensure every school in Staffordshire is rated as good or outstanding by Ofsted.

The target is part of Staffordshire County Council's new Learning and Skills strategy with parents urged to demand the highest standards from schools.

Education chief Councillor Ben Adams said: "We have huge ambitions for Staffordshire and for the future prosperity of our people. That is why this new approach challenges every one of our 400 schools to be rated 'good' or 'outstanding' by Ofsted, but it also recognises that educating young people to take advantage of the skilled and hi-tech job opportunities in the county involves more than obtaining academic qualifications.

by Adam Burling

Balanced

"A good education also raises aspirations, provides personal skills young adults need to communicate and prosper in the real world and offers good, balanced careers guidance from an early age."

Some 71 per cent of children are attending a primary school with a rating of 'good' or above, up 11 per cent on last year, and 68 per cent attending a high school at that level, up two per cent over the same period.

Councillor Adams said: "The target might sound ambitious, but we have seen improvements in recent years. We need to collectively raise the bar and demand more starting with the county council, schools and teachers, to parents and pupils themselves."

The strategy, to be considered by the Prosperous Staffordshire Select Committee on May 12, proposes to forge closer relationships with businesses through a newly formed 'education trust' and give schools greater independence over decisions. Parents will also get more information on school performance.

Councillor Adams added: "The education landscape is changing. More schools will become self-managing, forming strong partnerships with other schools to share expertise, senior management teams and costs.

"Schools will become more independent of the County Council, but we will continue to support headteachers, governors and parents in pursuing the highest standards."

Luxury London without the frills

Leon Burakowski visits a smart but affordable hotel as part of a theatre trip to London's West End

A LONDON break remains one of the most popular mini-holidays in the UK and those looking for a smart hotel stay can experience affordable luxury at The Nadler Kensington.

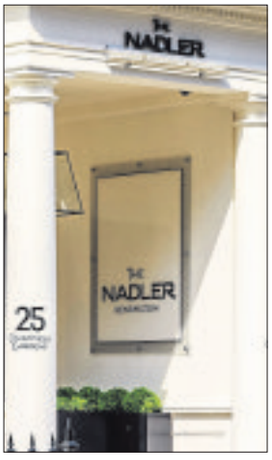
Part of a three-hotel portfolio of stylish boutique places to stay, the Courtfield Gardens address is in a prime location in a quiet upmarket Kensington residential street but just a five minute walk from the bustle of Earl's Court.

Three properties have been sympathetically combined to create a stylish and comfortable 65-bedroom hotel with a choice of room styles from bijou single to deluxe and family suites.

The family room option includes a mini-kitchen with microwave and fridge, Nespresso coffee machine, large en-suite bathroom with bath and shower, HDTV with free internet access. This makes light self-catering a feasible option and, as a nice touch, you can even request from reception your very own rubber duck for bath time.

The 'affordable luxury' concept does away with expensive fuss and frills. So there is no restaurant, bar or spa. You get what counts, a comfortable and clean room, helpful and informative staff, with art decorated surroundings that befit a modern, quality hotel.

There is a facility to have breakfast delivered and the hotel has exclusive discount vouchers that can be used at several local restaurants, including a generous 30 per cent off at Gourmet Burger Kitchen on Earl's Court Road.



The entrance to The Nadler Kensington

The London cast of Jersey Boys

The hotel is within walking distance of the Natural History, Science and Victoria & Albert museums. Earl's Court Underground Station is next to the popular exhibition halls and gives fast access to the shops and theatres of London's West End.

The London stay isn't really complete without a trip to a show. One of the most popular remains Jersey Boys, which won the Olivier award for best new musical in 2008. The story of 1960s and 70s hitmakers Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons recently moved to the famous Piccadilly Theatre, in Denman Street near Piccadilly Circus. It features some strong language but it is a funny and fast-moving production. It follows the blue collar boys from the mean streets of New Jersey to the Rock 'n' Roll Hall of Fame with such pop classics as Rag Doll, Sherry, Big Girls Don't Cry, Walk Like A Man and My Eyes Adored You.

Michael Watson recently took on the starring role as Frankie Valli and the show has extended its run until at least February 2015. Call the box office on 0844 412 6666 or visit the theatre's website.

For more information on The Nadler Kensington, where single rooms start from £107 and superior from £195 per room per night, call 0207 244 2255, email Kensington.info@thenadler.com. It also has sister hotels in Soho and Liverpool, for more information or to book see www.thenadler.com website.

Prince leads rock and pop royalty in week of star gigs

ONE of the most influential rock/R&B acts of the past three decades Prince is back with his first Birmingham gigs of the 21st Century.

The Kiss and Purple Rain star left fans to scramble for tickets (£65 each) with a shock announcement of UK gigs just over a fortnight before he plays the LG Arena for the first time in 19 years, on May 15 and again on May 19.

Following a series of low-key 'guerilla' UK gigs in February, the unpredictable singer-songwriter from Minneapolis will be bringing his all-female band 3rdEyeGirl on tour after announcing the imminent arrival of his new album Plectrum Electrum.

That will form part of an exceptional week of concerts at the LG and NIA with Roar hit-maker Katy Perry at the LG on Tuesday and Wednesday with her Prismatic World Tour. It marks part of the Californian pop star's year-long global jaunt and in Birmingham she will be supported by Swedish synth pop duo Icona Pop.

Then on Friday, May 16, Bangerz babe Miley Cyrus, who has put a Wrecking Ball through memories of Hannah Montana with her twerking antics, is at the NIA. That's the same night that The X Factor 2011 winners Little Mix are at the LG following the release of second album Salute and their Sports Relief Cameo cover hit Word Up!

Young queen of quirk Janelle Monae is supported by Cody Chestnutt at Birmingham Institute tonight. Yorkshire rock band Embrace have made a triumphant comeback with Follow You Home and are in concert on Saturday at Birmingham Academy.

There are opportunities to catch up with several performers that made their names in the 1980s and 90s. Tonight crooner Michael Bolton, now minus his mullet but still able to deliver a powerful ballad, is in concert at Wolverhampton Civic Hall with a combination of old favourites and songs from his new Motown tribute album Ain't No Mountain High Enough.

Influential Liverpudlian band Echo & The Bunnymen follow up new single Lovers On The Run and forthcoming album Meteorites at the Wulfrun Hall on Sunday. Hits such as The Cutter, Lips Like Sugar and The Killing Moon will likely get an airing.

Prince returns to Birmingham after 19 years

Singer-songwriter Toris Amos is at Birmingham Symphony Hall on Monday showcasing new album Unrepetant Geraldines. Ex-lead singer of The Go-Gos Belinda Carlisle, who had solo hits in 1987 with Circle In The Sand and Heaven Is A Place On Earth, has a sold out gig on Tuesday at Birmingham Town Hall. That's the same night folk/pop outfit Martin Stephenson and The Daintees are at the Academy 3. Ex-Bible frontman Boo Hewerdine plays Wolverhampton Slade Rooms on Wednesday.

Oh Boy! Grand on Holly days

BUDDY – The Buddy Holly Story recreates the roots of rock 'n' roll at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre from Monday, May 19, to May 24, as the show celebrates its own silver anniversary.

The meteoric rise and untimely death of the Rave On and Peggy Sue rocker from Texas, who once rivalled Elvis and went on to influence The Beatles, is covered in the two-hour show featuring 20 hits with Roger Rowley as Buddy.

Ben Richards plays arrogant rock god Stacee Jaxx in Rock of Ages The Musical, also featuring Noel Sullivan, which features lots of 1980s power ballads from We Built This City to I Wanna Know What Love Is.

It struts into Birmingham to play The New Alexandra Theatre from Monday to Saturday, May 19.

Roger Rowley as Buddy Holly in a musical of his life

Panic break out at the Civic Hall

LAS Vegas rock band Panic! At The Disco follow up the top ten success of latest album Too Weird To Love, Too Rare To Die by bringing The Gospel Tour to Wolverhampton Civic Hall on Saturday.

Tickets cost £24.75 to see Brendon Urie and co in action at the Civic with a bundle of high-energy, synth-led anthems as the band tour in their own right after supporting Fall Out Boy.

Last year was the most successful yet for the MTV favourites who grabbed attention in 2005 with their debut album A Fever You Can't Sweat Out and the hit single I Write Sins Not Tragedies. Too Weird is their fourth album.

Call 0870 320 7000.

Theatre on song for Sister Act

TICKETS have gone on sale for the West Midlands amateur premiere of musical comedy Sister Act.

West Bromwich Operatic Society are staging the Midlands premiere of nun on the run musical Sister Act at the Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton, from Tuesday to Saturday.

Based on the popular 1992 film starring Whoopi Goldberg, it tells of a nightclub singer who hides from gangsters in a convent, and decides to bring a little soul power to the nuns' choir.

Tasheka Coe stars and tickets cost from £13.50. Visit www.wbos.co.uk

Lord of the Flies in dance revamp

A HARD-HITTING dance production devised by one of the scene's great talents and featuring several Black Country boys will be a highlight of International Dance Festival Birmingham 2014.

Matthew Bourne's company New Adventures bring Lord of the Flies, based on the novel by William Golding, to Birmingham Hippodrome from Wednesday to Saturday, May 14-17.

The professional dancers will be joined by 22 young amateurs chosen from more than 300 hopefuls.

The powerful story about schoolboys descending into savagery has been relocated by Bourne from an island to a deserted theatre setting.

Wolf Alice ready to rock the Temple

THERE'S a buzz about London rockers Wolf Alice, fronted by Ellie Rowsell, and that's not just the ringing left in your ears by their explosive grunge style sound.

The band named after an Angela Carter short story emptied the bars at the recent Wolverhampton gig by The Manic Street Preachers when they pulled a massive crowd for a support act.

They are touring again before the release of EP Creature Songs in June and play Birmingham Institute's Temple venue in Digbeth on Monday. Call 0844 844 0444 for tickets.

Molly

Eurovision Song Contest 2014
(BBC1, 8pm)

Graham Norton commentates on the 59th musical extravaganza from Copenhagen, Denmark, who won last year with Emmelie de Forest's Only Teardrops. All eyes will be on Molly, who is aiming to become the first UK winner since 1997 with her self-penned anthem Children of the Universe, and Ireland's Can-Linn featuring Kasey Smith – assuming the latter made it through Thursday's semi-final. They are likely to face stiff competition from the other 24 countries, including the host nation's Basim with his Bruno Mars-style Cliche Love Song, the German trio Elaiza, who use traditional instruments to produce a more modern sound, and France's Twin Twin, who bring to mind Jedward with their fun dance track Moustache.

Film Choices

Trial by Fire, Channel 5, 3.15pm

A firefighter is wrongly blamed for the death of her father, hours before he was due to retire from the department. Eager to prove herself to her peers, she sets out to join an elite squad of smoke jumpers who are expected to leap from planes into the heart of a blaze. Action thriller, starring Brooke Burns, Erin Karpluk, Rick Ravanello and Robert Moloney. (2008)

TUESDAY

Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix, ITV, 7.30pm

The young wizard struggles to convince his fellow sorcerers that the evil Lord Voldemort has returned to life. When Hogwarts headmaster Dumbledore is ousted in favour of a sadistic replacement, Harry realises he must take matters into his own hands, uniting his fellow pupils to form a secret army and training them for the inevitable confrontation to come. Fantasy adventure sequel, starring Daniel Radcliffe, Emma Watson, Rupert Grint, Gary Oldman, Michael Gambon and Alan Rickman. (2007)

Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix, Tuesday, ITV, 7.30pm

WEDNESDAY

Tomorrow Never Dies, ITV, 10.35pm

James Bond joins forces with a Chinese agent to foil a media mogul's scheme to start a war between their countries. Using an undetectable stealth ship, the press baron plans an attack on both nations' navies, knowing they will blame each other – giving him exclusive global media coverage of the resulting conflict. Spy adventure, starring Pierce Brosnan. (1997)

THURSDAY

Jane Doe: The Wrong Face, Channel 5, 3.15pm

The former government agent is called back into action after kidnappers abduct a district attorney's wife during plastic surgery – meaning nobody knows what the victim now looks like. The criminals demand the release of the defendant in a money-laundering trial, but the accused denies all knowledge of the crime. Thriller, starring Lea Thompson and Jessy Schram. (2005)

FRIDAY

The World Is Not Enough, ITV, 10.35pm

James Bond is assigned to protect the heiress of an oil dynasty after her father is killed in a bombing at MI6 headquarters. The attack is the work of an infamous terrorist who is unable to feel pain after surviving a gunshot to his head, and who now intends to destroy the world's supply of oil. Spy adventure, starring Pierce Brosnan, Robert Carlyle, Sophie Marceau and Robbie Coltrane. (1999)

Pick of the Week

Make a note to tune in to tonight's contest

Blue, Engelbert Humperdinck, Bonnie Tyler – over the last few years, the UK has sent some pretty big names to Eurovision. And let's be honest, the results have been underwhelming.

So, this year it seems the powers-that-be have taken a different approach, and picked a rising star instead, in the form of Molly and her song Children of the Universe.

Not that the singer, whose full name is Molly Smitten-Downes, is a total novice when it comes to performing in musical competitions. In 2012, she picked up the Best Urban/Pop Act prize at Live and Unsigned, and in 2013 won Best Song at the Best of British Unsigned Music Awards.

However, she admits Eurovision is in a slightly different league.

She says: "Oh, hands down it is the biggest audience I'll ever have performed in front of – I don't think it really gets much bigger as a platform, performing to so many people across a whole continent.

"The biggest audience I've ever performed to would probably be a festival size – about 25,000 people – so with regard to the arena, I've done bigger, but with regard to the 180 million watching at home… it's almost impossible to get my head round that!

But she's trying not to let it faze her. "I suppose there is a positive sort of pressure as the first of a new kind of artist being chosen to represent the UK. This contest can be such a great platform for a new artist, it would be great if it came to be seen as a positive opportunity in the future. There is pressure, but nothing that isn't healthy."

In fact, she's hoping that she can even change the way a few people think about the contest.

"There is a stigma around Eurovision, it would be foolish not to realise that, but there are great acts that come through the contest – like [2012 Swedish winner] Loreen – and at heart it's a songwriters' competition, so you're always going to get some genuinely great music in the mix.

"That's what I'm doing it for – I'd like to have a career as a songwriter and where else am I going to get an opportunity for 180 million people to hear my work? How do you top that?"

In fact, she's so excited about the competition, it seems she's not even listening to the cynics who claim that it doesn't matter who the UK send because no one will vote for us anyway,

"This is all new to me, but I'd like to think that if the competition is based on the song, and if the people of Europe think my song is the best, then yes – I definitely think we can do well."

But as she takes the stage in Copenhagen, Denmark, the competition is going to be tough, especially when she's up against the host nation's Basim, German trio Elaiza, France's Twin Twin, and Spain's Ruth Lorenzo, who British viewers may recognise from The X Factor.

Although the most eye-catching entrant may be Austria's bearded drag artist Conchita Wurst, who should definitely give commentator Graham Norton something to talk about…

Molly is performing in Eurovision Song Contest 2014, Saturday, BBC1, 8pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

The Greatest Ever War Movies

Channel 5, 9pm

Back in May 2005, Channel 4 broadcast a two-part rundown of the 100 best war films ever made, as voted for by viewers. In the nine years since then, a few more movies have been made in the genre that could be added to it, but it's hard to imagine that this list will be much different. Those in the know at Channel 5 are keeping quiet about which films come where in the chart, but if the likes of The Dam Busters, Apocalypse Now, The Great Escape and Saving Private Ryan don't crop up, we'll eat our berets. And if the likes of Where Eagles Dare and The Bridge on the River Kwai are missing, Channel 5 will have a battle with many an armchair critic on their hands.

Copacabana Palace

BBC2, 9pm

When you read the title of this programme, don't tell us that the lyrics of Barry Manilow's famous song didn't run through your head, because we won't believe you. But did you know that the tune was inspired by a conversation Manilow had with writer Bruce Sussman during a stay at the Copacabana Hotel in Rio de Janeiro? It opened in August 1923 and in the years since has featured in the 1933 film Flying Down to Rio, and has also provided luxurious rooms for such famous names as Madonna, Michael Jackson, Marilyn Monroe, Orson Welles, Diana, Princess of Wales, Elton John, Pavarotti and Justin Bieber. This documentary charts three months in the hotel's life, following its staff and guests. David Morrissey narrates.

TUESDAY

Ben Fogle's Animal Clinic

Channel 5, 8pm

Adventurer Ben Fogle must have learned how to deal with his itchy feet by now after years of globetrotting, but there's one thing sure to keep Ben in one place for a longer stint of time – his love of animals. So for this new series, he's setting up camp at the University of Liverpool's Leahurst campus, which is home to one of the UK's top veterinary colleges. In this first episode, staff treat a horse called Polo who is at serious risk of dying from colic, and in the small animal clinic, Paolo Silvestrini treats a rescue kitten that can't stop sneezing.

WEDNESDAY

Watchdog

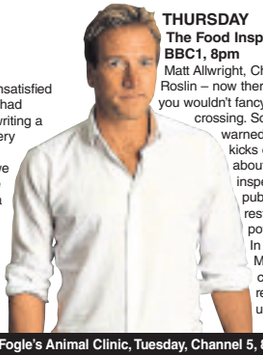
BBC1, 8pm

Once upon a time, people who were unsatisfied with the level of customer service they had received usually had to make do with writing a strongly worded letter. Now, they can very publicly vent their frustration all over social media and review sites. So, do we still need Watchdog? Well, it seems we do, as the consumer show is back for a new series. Not only can Anne Robinson, Matt Allwright and Chris Hollins fight our corner, but they can also expose rogue traders and warn us who to look out for. In the first episode, they turn their attention to a major car manufacturer that has been accused of being dishonest about safety testing.

Billy Connolly's Big Send Off

ITV, 9pm

The comedian concludes his journey exploring attitudes toward death and dying. In his native Glasgow, he visits the Necropolis Cemetery, a Victorian burial ground full of striking gravestones and grand monuments to the dead. He then travels to the Anatomy Laboratory in the University of California as he explores what happens when bodies are donated to medical science. Finally, Billy gains a personal insight into death from a dying man who has embraced his fate and forgiven himself for his former sins



Ben Fogle's Animal Clinic, Tuesday, Channel 5, 8pm

THURSDAY

The Food Inspectors

BBC1, 8pm

Matt Allwright, Chris Hollins and Gaby Roslin – now there's a tough-talking trio you wouldn't fancy your chances crossing. So food outlets be warned – as this new series kicks off, they're out and about with the food inspectors to protect the public from unhygienic restaurants and potentially harmful food. In this first instalment, Matt investigates how clean supermarkets really are by sending an undercover team to 10 London stores to test for levels of bacteria. Meanwhile, Gaby and Chris discover what's in ice-cream as they investigate the difference between soft scoop and dairy, and learn how to make both before offering them to schoolchildren for a taste test.

FRIDAY

Weekend Escapes with Warwick Davis

ITV, 8pm

It's the last in the series, and the Davis family are finishing off their tour in Lancashire, beginning with a trip to the Blackpool Tower Ballroom. Regular viewers of Coronation Street and Strictly Come Dancing will know that this is a place where dreams are made, but Warwick's son Harrison initially seems unsure as his family try to coax him onto the dance floor. Their next destination is the seaside resort's famous illuminations, and Warwick has the honour of switching on the lights – but he's glad he's not taking responsibility for the electricity bill. .

MasterChef: The Finals

BBC1, 8.30pm

Eight weeks ago, the distinctive husky tones of India Fisher marked the start of another series of MasterChef. Since then, 57 of the original 60 amateur cooks have fallen by the wayside, leaving tonight's trio battling it out to succeed last year's victor Natalie Coleman as champion. All that stands between them and the title are three courses of perfect grub, so they'll be pulling out all the stops to impress judges John Torode and Gregg Wallace with spicy starters, mouth-watering mains and delicious desserts

Nissan is bidding for clean sweep with hi-tech paintwork

By David Banner

Washing a car can be a chore – and a costly one at that. In response, Nissan has begun tests on innovative paint technology which repels mud, rain and everyday dirt, meaning drivers may never have to clean their car again.

The specially engineered super-hydrophobic and oleophobic paint, which repels water and oils, has been applied to the all-new Nissan Note to create the world's first self-cleaning car.

To assess the real-world effectiveness of the super-hydrophobic as a potential aftermarket application, engineers at Nissan Technical Centre Europe will be testing the self-cleaning Note over the coming months.

Nissan is the first car-maker to apply the technology, called Ultra-Ever Dry, on automotive bodywork. By creating a protective layer of air between the paint and environment, it effectively stops standing water and road spray from creating dirty marks on the car's surface.

It's not the first time 'self-cleaning' technology has been used on the Note. The car already features a 'wash and blow dry' function on its rear-view camera. This uses water and compressed air to automatically keep the lens free of dirt and ensure the Notes' safety sensors work in all conditions.

So far, the coating, which is being marketed and sold by UltraTech International Inc, has responded well to common use cases including rain, spray, frost, sleet and standing water. Whilst there are currently no plans for the technology to be applied to the model as standard, Nissan will continue to consider the coating technology as a future after-market option.

Geraldine Ingham, chief marketing manager for Nissan Note, said: "We are committed to addressing everyday problems our customers face and will always consider testing exciting, cutting-ege technology like this incredible coating application."

The all-new Nissan Note is already packed with innovative technology to make driving safer. Lane Departure Warning, Blind Spot Warning and Moving Object Detection combine to form the Nissan Safety Shield. This unique package is powered by 360-degree Around View Monitor technology which relies on the unique self-cleaning rear camera – an innovation already breaking new ground in the B segment.

Blind Spot Warning

A feature once reserved for cars in the premium sector, Nissan's system uses the rear wide-view camera to detect vehicles in the hidden blind spot areas on both sides of the Note. If a vehicle is detected in either blind spot, a discreet warning light illuminates in the glass of the Note's wing mirror. If the driver indicates to change lanes and the system detects a vehicle in the danger area, the light flashes and an audible warning is given.

Lane Departure Warning

Another premium feature making its debut in the B-segment, Lane Departure Warning detects if the car is starting to drift out of lane.

While you might expect a windscreen-mounted camera or radar system to be required for this function, the Note again uses only its rear wide-view camera.

Advanced computer programming detects even faint road markings, allowing the car to determine if it is drifting out of position without indicating. If it does, a warning is given to the driver to correct their road position.

Cleverly, the system automatically adjusts its sensitivity when on rural roads to allow for the different required driving style.

Moving Object Detection

Building on the capabilities of Around View Monitor, this new function effectively gives the driver a digital co-pilot to help them look at what might be approaching the path of their reversing Note.

While conventional parking aids warn the driver of an object in their way, Moving Object Detection gives an audible and visual alert if someone or something is moving around the car, for example if a child is walking towards your reversing Note.

Mounted on the tailgate and having a convex lens, the rear wide-view camera has a sweep of vision in excess of 180 degrees, giving it an unparalleled field of vision at the back of the car. Images from the camera are displayed on the 5.8in Nissan Connect screen.

Bringing premium technology and sharp design to the B-segment is at the core of the new Note's appeal, with innovative thinking applied to all aspects of its design and engineering.

Tick all the boxes with impressive all-rounder

By David Banner

Over the past few years I have been pro-claiming to anyone who would listen, or for that matter anybody who asked, my advice on car ownership, the merits of Skoda.

The marque has been transformed and is now at the top end of affordable vehicles which everyone should consider.

It is my view that with the strange sounding Yeti, Skoda has produced probably its best car to date.

The Yeti is well packaged, brilliantly sized with impressive on and off-road behaviour characteristics,

Skoda has tapped into the marketplace which all manu-facturers now have to be involved in. It is a vehicle which, if you feel you need a 4 x 4 but you want to be seen to be a bit green, you should take a look at.

Whilst not wanting to be negative, I think the designers may have attended the old Volvo design school, because the vehicle is rather angular.

The advantage of this is that it places a wheel at each corner, and this translates to excellent off-road ability, in so far as you do not have any annoying overhangs front or rear which could be a problem if you were seriously off-roading.

Position

Add in to the equation the huge windows all round and the high seating position, and it means even rear passen-gers have excellent all-round visibility – this is another box to be ticked by the Yeti.

I like to sit in the back of the vehicle I am testing. I am just over 6ft tall and if I can get comfortable with sufficient head, and importantly, knee room, then most people can.

The Yeti has the advantage of the rear seats being adjust-able. The outer two seats can slide backwards, and you can also alter the amount of recline to the backrest, so you can really get quite comfortable.

The boot is not overly generous and it was very awkward to load large items due to the high sill.

The vehicle, of course, has the advantage of seats which fold out of the way, so that you can carry bigger loads should you so wish.

The Yeti is available with five engine derivatives, two petrols, a 1.2-litre and a 1.8-litre, producing 105bhp and 160bhp respectively.

Then there are two diesel options with power outputs of 110bhp and to 170bhp. A smaller1.2-litre engine is only available in the two-wheel drive version.

Friendly

The driving dynamics of the Yeti are of a friendly compan-ion which does all you ask from it. It's a sure-footed vehicle on all types of terrain.

In a deluge of recent thunderstorms, I felt secure and co-cooned in a degree of safety with the permanent four-wheel drive system fitted.

I ventured to a very wet car boot sale and whilst others were sliding around and trying to exit the muddy terrain, the Yeti sat down, got on with the job and got me out of the situation without any undue stress.

The amount of standard equipment is quite impressive, even the entry level has air conditioning with remote cen-tral locking and electric front windows,. If alloy wheels have to be part of your package, then you need to look at an S derivative and this also introduces front fog lamps and the rear windows are electrically operated. Dual zone climate control, parking sensors, and a better CD is introduced in the SE, and the top specification, Elegance, has leather up-holstery.

For me an S level would tick all the boxes, especially if it was the two-litre turbo diesel engine.

My test Yeti Elegance Outdoor 2.0 TDi, 4 x 4, was priced at £24,950. Yeti prices start from £16,405.

Duster – a great budget buy

By Graham Breeze

AT less than £9,495 on the road, there can't be many better buys than the Dacia Duster – quite simply the biggest car you'll get for that money.

When you're spending that sort of cash you don't expect too much in the way of luxury so it's no surprise to find the model a little on the rough-and-ready side.

But the Duster does just what it says on the tin. It's a practical four-wheel drive at a ridiculously low price – and cheap to run.

Incredibly, the prices start at £9,495, with a range-topper hitting the road at £15,495. The model on test was a 1.5 Ambiance dCi, priced at £13,995 with a six-speed manual transmission.

Not only is Duster one of the driving forces behind the Renault Group's international growth, but it has also emerged as the best-selling Renault model worldwide.

The fact that one million Dusters have been sold worldwide in the space of just four years is a perfect illustration of the model's success. Today, it is available in more than 100 countries, branded either as a Dacia or a Renault.

With Renault badging, Duster has taken the group forward in its international markets and has a severe cold climate version for Russia, a flex-fuel version for Brazil and a right-hand drive version for India.

Most options in the SUV range come with soft suspension and the Duster is no different.

The penalty for the low price though is a lack of refinement when it comes to road handling, with a noisy ride and lots of vibrating bits.

'The car feels safer than expected at speed, with a top of 104mph and 0-60mph in 12.5 secs in the 1.5 test car.'

Around town you feel just about every bump, but the Duster has a few surprises up its sleeves once on the open road.

The car feels safer than expected at speed, with a top of 104mph and 0-60mph in 12.5 seconds on the 1.5 test car.

The price means you can't possibly get the full SUV package and one of the area's where the Duster falls down is on safety, with only four airbags, and stability control only available as an option. You do get an engine immobilser though.

Inside the cab is basic but surprisingly comfortable. There's no complicated fascia with rows of hi-tech gimmicks. Instead there's a return to basics and everything is easy to find and just where it should be for easy driving.

There's plenty of room for four six-footers to sit in comfort and the boot space is 400 litres big while the Duster comes with easy to fold seats for that extra room when needed.

There's no denying you get plenty for the money, but I would be concerned about depreciation levels and trade-in values.

Exciting . . . propositions

By David Banner

Vauxhall's sixth generation Astra faces far tougher Focus-class family hatchback competition than it did at launch back in 2009.

Hence a welcome package of improvements that has brought a smarter look, extra efficiency and slicker technology. It's more than enough to keep this car amongst the top three best sellers in the segment.

Here we home in on the Astra's Excite trim level priced from £19,845 on the-road. It's currently available with a £2,000 Deposit Contribution from Vauxhall. What's more, there's up to 5-year's 0% APR Representative flexible finance and Vauxhall includes a £2,000*Deposit Contribution in with the current deal.

With the Astra Excite you can choose between eight exterior colours. It comes comprehensively equipped, too, with specification that includes a mobile phone connection system with Bluetooth ® functionality, a six-speaker stereo system, steering wheel mounted controls, cruise control, 17-inch alloy wheels, a USB connection with iPod control, a leather covered sports steering wheel and Black cloth interior trim.

Though the aesthetic improvements made to this Astra are subtle, they do succeed in giving it a much fresher look. The rakish three-door Astra GTC provided the inspiration for many of the aesthetic changes made to five-door versions.

Under the bonnet in Astra Excite models, Vauxhall offers a 100PS 1.4-litre and 115PS 1.6-litre petrol engines with this trim level. Alternatively, there are two diesels, a 1.6 CDTi 110PS engine or a 1.7-litre CDTi diesel unit also delivering 110PS. Both diesels are mated to six-speed manual transmissions and all powerplants offer good economy and emissions lower enough to keep company car drivers happy. The 1.6-litre diesel option is the most frugal though delivering 76.3mpg on the combined cycle.

Vauxhall's Astra is mainly British, with hatch and estate models built at Ellesmere Port near Liverpool to a quality at least as high as anything the Japanese brands can manage. That reason alone might be enough to give this car a place on your family hatchback shortlist. Fortunately for Vauxhall, there are also many others.

To the uninitiated, the Vauxhall Corsa might seem a very ordinary car as there are plenty of them around. However, drive one and you'll realise it's anything but. Since its introduction, Vauxhall has continuously fettled and polished the Corsa, turning it from a good car into an outstanding one. Sales figures suggest that the British public know a good thing when they see one.

Quality is very strong and the superiority of some of the materials in the cabin only underscores that impression. A 285-litre boot is more than adequate for the weekly shop or a weekend away and this can be extended to 1100 litres by folding the rear seats.

The Corsa is one of most attractive cars in its class. Meriva-style 'Eagle-Eye' headlamps with chrome finish and daytime running lights are fitted and the chrome detailing also extends to the fog lights.

With three-door prices starting from £11,985 and five-door prices beginning at £12,580 Corsa Excite trim level offers particularly good value for money, especially when you consider what Vauxhall includes in the package. Mobile phone Bluetooth ® functionality, a decent stereo system with USB connection with iPod control, steering wheel mounted audio controls, twin electrically-adjustable and heated door mirrors, front fog lights and a Graphic information display system are all featured as standard. Then there's air conditioning, electrically heated front seats and leather covered steering wheel which is also heated! Don't forget too, that you'll also get that free Vauxhall Lifetime warranty*.

With solid build quality, sharp driving manners and some of the most economical engines on offer anywhere, the Corsa more than stacks up. It is, in fact, a very good product. Factor in prices which usually undercut far less sturdy opposition and it's a small car that needs no excuses.

EVANS
Thomas Joseph
(Tom)

Forty-eight years May 6, 2014.

A much loved Dad, Grandad and Great-Grandad

By the old rugged cross you sit with a smile, waiting for those you left behind, with their grief and their loss we'll meet again by the old rugged cross.

Goodnight and God bless.

Your loving Family.

May

One hundred and five,

May 8, 2014.

A much loved Mom, Nan and Great-Nan

It's your birthday and we remember with love and a smile all the happy birthdays that we've shared with Family and Friends.

We will meet as a Family as we always do, at the May Ball in memory of you and there we will raise a glass or two and say happy birthday Mom, wonderful memories of you.

Goodnight and God bless.

Your loving Family.

Staffordshire County Council

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 (AS AMENDED)
ROAD TRAFFIC (TEMPORARY RESTRICTIONS) ACT 1991
VARIOUS ROADS (A5 CHURCHBRIDGE PINCH POINT SCHEME) CANNOCK
DIVERSION OF VEHICULAR TRAFFIC

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council intend, not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an Order the effect of which will be to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in the following lengths of roads between the junctions stated unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the A5 Churchbridge Pinch Point works or is being used for police, fire brigade or ambulance purposes.

Schedule of Roads to which this Order applies:

A460 Eastern Way, Cannock
- Link Roads between A460 Eastern Way and junctions with A460 Lodge Lane/A34 Walsall Road Island, and A460 Eastern Way/M6 Toll Island

A34 Walsall Road, Cannock
- Between it's junctions with Green Lane, Cannock and A460 Eastern Way Island

U5051 Bridge Street, Cannock
- From outside the Stumble Inn PH (Bridge Street) and the A34 Walsall Road, Cannock

A460 Lodge Lane, Cheslyn Hay and Cannock
- Between it's junctions with A460 Eastern Way, Cannock and C161 Saredon Road Island

A34 Walsall Road, Great Wyrley
- Between it's junctions with Eliot Drive, Churchbridge and A5 Watling Street, Cannock

The preferred alternative routes for traffic will be signed appropriately on site as required and available to view at www.roadworks.org

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 27 MAY 2014, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ENVISAGED THAT TRAFFIC PROHIBITIONS WILL BE IN OPERATION DURING THE FOLLOWING TIMES BUT MAY BE IMPLEMENTED OVER 24 HOUR PERIODS IF REQUIRED TO MAINTAIN SAFETY.

Monday to Thursday	in place between 21:30hrs and 05:30hrs
Friday	in place between 21:30hrs and 09:30hrs
Saturdays	in place between 17:30hrs and 09:30hrs
Sundays	in place between 17:30hrs and 05:30hrs

It is anticipated that the works will be completed by 19th October 2014.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the Churchbridge Pinch Point Scheme works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the roads, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 (AS AMENDED)
ROAD TRAFFIC (TEMPORARY RESTRICTIONS) ACT 1991
ST PAULS ROAD, RUGELEY
DIVERSION OF VEHICULAR TRAFFIC

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council intend, not less than seven days from the date of this Notice, to make an Order the effect of which will be to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in that length of St Pauls Road, Rugeley from its junction with A460 Horse Fair to its junction with Lichfield Street, a distance of approximately 95 metres unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the works. Limited vehicular access will be available from the A460 Horse Fair end only. Pedestrian access will be maintained.

The preferred alternative route for traffic will be available via Forge Road, Bryans Lane, Market Street, B5013 Anson Street and B5013 Elmore Lane.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 26 MAY 2014, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS WILL BE COMPLETED BY 23 JUNE 2014.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the carriageway alteration works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the road, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Seconds slip to first loss of season

Cannock 2nds 183-9
Beacon 2nds 184-7
Beacon won by 3 wickets

CANNOCK slipped to their first loss of the season with a three-wicket defeat away at Beacon.

After losing the toss Cannock posted 183-9 from their 50 overs with John Cooke scoring 52 , Dan Wood 38 and Adam Evans 36.

In reply Beacon reached their target with two overs to spare with Dan Wood taking 3 for 57 and Nick Bell 2 for 25. Top scorer for Beacon was opener Michael Hartwell with 84.

Cannock 3rds 81-7
Whitmore Reans 1sts 168 all out
Cannock losing draw

Cannock continue to find life difficult in Division 2 but a battling performance saw them secure the losing draw and six points away at high-flying Whitmore Reans. Good bowling and fielding by Cannock restricted the hosts to 168, Paul Martin taking 3-15, Antony Leech 2-22 and Matt Bull 2-60.

Cannock decided to settle for the draw with Ant Wood (31) and Kev Pearce (17) offering stubborn resistance. Cannock innings closed on 81-7 from 51 overs .

Success served up at start of season

CHESLYN Hay Tennis Club have made a successful start to the new season.

The Men's Staffordshire league team started their debut season in the league with a 3-1 away win at Streetly Tennis Club after Dave Wright and James Perrin won a vital third set tie break.

This continued with a 4-0 home win against Linden Lea with Josh Wilson, Tom Carney, Nick Plant and James Perrin performing well.

Playing in the Walsall Men's League has given many players their first experience of league tennis.

The season started with a 2-2 draw against Brewood and a 4-0 loss for the B Team against Bloxwich.

In addition to men's teams, there is an array of junior tennis coaching sessions and competitions for all ages.

The Under 12s have already had their first outing of the season demonstrating their improved singles skills in a 4-2 loss to an established Lichfield Team.

Cheslyn Hay are looking forward to another busy weekend with matches for the Under 12s, Under 14s and the Men in Staffordshire and Walsall leagues.

Wounded Glover is Hednesford's hero

Hednesford 2 Altrincham 2

STRIKER Danny Glover shrugged off a nasty head wound to score a wonder-goal as Hednesford earned a draw in the first leg of their Skrill North play-off semi-final.

The Pitmen will head to Moss Lane for Saturday's second leg with the tie finely poised. Glover also played a hand in a fine team goal, finished by Alex Melbourne.

Football

The 25-yard dipping volley on 34 minutes wiped out Damian Reeves' opener on 14 for the visitors.

Glover, the 24-year-old son of Port Vale favourite Lee Glover, was forced off for treatment for a gashed head just before half-time, only to return bandaged after the interval and unleash a 57th-minute rocket to put his side 2-1 ahead.

But James Walshaw equalised for Altrincham three minutes later.

"The lads have been caning me saying I don't get any shots off, so when I chested it down I thought I'd just shoot and luckily it went in with my left foot," said Glover.

"I've split my head so I'll need a couple of stitches, but it's just one of those things.

"I just challenged for a ball and the defender caught the back of my head.

"I tried to carry on but the blood was just gushing out.

"I would have played on until they dragged me off – which eventually they did. At 2-2 it's all to play for."

"We thought we were a bit sloppy and we didn't play as well as we could and yet we're still at 2-2. "

The Pitmen might have gone ahead in the ninth minute when Ben Bailey hurled a long throw into the box and Paul McCone's flick-on looped just over .

But they were behind in the 14th minute after full-back John Disney was dispossessed and Reeves slid in to convert a pinpoint cross.

Reeves delivered a pinpoint cross and the prolific Reeves slid in to divert the ball home at the far post.

The Pitmen retained their composure, however, and had a sniff of an equaliser on 26 minutes when Marvin Johnson found space on the left flank and aimed an excellent cross towards Glover in the box, but defender Adam Griffin made a crucial clearance which he sliced just past the post, narrowly avoiding an own-goal. The hosts went through a sloppy spell but they were on level terms 11 minutes before half-time with a goal of real quality.

The Pitmen levelled when Melbourne dummied Johnson's pass, collected Glover's return and finished from a tight angle.

Then came Glover's goal before Walshaw's fine header left it all square.

Lambert in limbo on future

PAUL LAMBERT has admitted his Villa future is in limbo as Randy Lerner prepares to reveal his plans.

The boss is still in the dark about chairman Lerner's intentions and knows he could still face the sack in the summer.

Lerner is expected to confirm next week that he wants to sell Villa, who sealed Premier League survival with Saturday's 3-1 win over Hull.

Lambert has come under fire from fans after another season-long struggle but wants to be able to continue the job he started in 2012.

He said: "I hope I will still be manager next season, that is what I want to do," he added.

Events will help reward the fans

HEDNESFORD Town and the HTFC Supporters Association are calling as many fans as possible to support attend two event this month.

The end of season player awards on Friday, May 16 and the FA Trophy 10-year reunion night is the following Friday.

Association joint chairman Scott Smith has worked tirelessly to organise both events over the past six months with assistance from other members.

He said he was really excited at the prospect of the evenings after such a successful season.

"The effort and work that the players, staff and management have put in this season has been nothing short of brilliant and we have had another fantastic season," he said.

"I'm really looking forward to rewarding our unbelievable supporters."

Tickets for the end of season evening are free to all supporters.

The FA Trophy reunion will see almost the entire squad and backroom staff reunited for the first time in a decade.

Tickets are £5 to SA members, £7 to non-members. Contact the club on 01543422870 or Smith at office@hednesfordtownfc.com or 07518144801.

Now is the time for players to lift trophy

Cannock celebrate winning the NOW: Pensions Men's Cup Final against Brooklands

CANNOCK ended their season on a high to win the NOW: Pensions Men's Cup for the first time since 2007 on penalty strokes against Brooklands MU.

The game started with a fast tempo and was 1-1 after just three minutes.

Cannock took the early initiative, with David Beckett steering the ball home after good play from Arjan Drayton Chana.

This lead only lasted a minute as Brooklands MU bounced straight back.

Cannock retook the lead through Ben Edge. But it was all square again on 32 minutes.Cannock pushed for the winner but were unable to find one as the match went to penalty strokes.

Cannock kept their nerve to convert all five of their flicks. When Brooklands' Aidan Khares saw his stroke go over the bar, it was down to David Beckett to win the cup for Cannock.

He neatly slotted the ball away to start the Cannock celebrations as they lifted the cup for the fifth time.

The following day Cannock's over 40s Masters attempted to complete the double over Brooklands in this age group final but went down 2-1.

Top two are set to leave the Pics

RUSHALL Olympic has announced manager Neil Kitching is to leave the club by mutual consent.

Kitching, who has been in charge for five years, will leave after next Monday's Walsall Senior Cup final with Chasetown. Assistant boss Nick Amos is also set to depart.

Appointed boss in 2009, the former striker masterminded the Pics promotion from the Evo-Stik First Division in his first season in charge.

The club have enjoyed three top-eight finishes in the Premier Division and beat Port Vale to win the Staffordshire Senior Cup last week.

"We would like to place on record our sincere thanks for the fantastic job that Kitch has done," said club chairman John Allen. "All of the potential that we saw in Kitch in his first managerial spell at Coleshill Town has been realised, as under his leadership the club's success has been phenomenal.

"Kitch and Nick Amos brought a diligence to the job in galvanising the players who pulled on a Rushall Olympic shirt. Both Kitch and Nick are Rushall Olympic people through and through."

"We wish them well for the future."

Poets Corner market in their cup success

Cannock Chase Football League

FIRST Division Poets Corner lifted the Cannock Chase Cup beating Premier League Champions Ridware Oak 5-1. Tyrone Atkinson opened the scoring after two minutes.

He later added a second for the Poets with Brad Lawley, Richard Bakewell and Ashley Lawley also getting their names on the score sheet at Stafford Town FC's ground.

And Poets Corner set a record of 24 consecutive games in this competition.

Guest of honour, Stafford Town chairman Gordon Evans presented the cup and the man of the match award to Atkinson.

Div One Cup Final

Poets Corner played and won their second final in three days by beating Nelson Inn 4-1.

Brad Lawley, Ash Lawley, Tyrone Atkinson and James Lewis scored to lift the Roy 'Baba' Wells Cup.

Poets still have another two finals to play and are favourites for the league title, an amazing achievement for a first division team.

Jock Corrigan Memorial Cup semi-final

Brereton Social Lion edged out Brereton Town 2-0 with goals in each half from Reece Baker and Stuart Simpson and are 90 minutes away from winning this cup for the first time.

Division Three

Goals by the deadly strike force of Ryan Tongue and Jake West enabled Crystal Fountain to beat Bridgtown Social 2-1 to be crowned league champions and remain unbeaten in the league. Wyrley Juniors beat AFC Colliers 3-1. King George Casuals beat Jubilee 3-1 with a Hissey double and one for Rob Lloyd.

Football

Division Four

AFC Essington beat Pied Piper 2-1 with goals from Sean Carroll, taking him to 30 for the season.

The Nest came from behind again to beat Cannock Rgs 4-3 with a hat-trick from 17-year-old Niall Preece and a goal from Russ Ambrose.

Champions Hen House went goal crazy beating Cannock Ex 12-2. An Ant Heap hat-trick, braces by Mark Sims, Jamie Green and Liam Martin and one each for Olly Wooton, Lee Garrington and Jack Connolly.

Pear Tree beat Rugeley Rgs 4-2 with goals from Mel Howard, Matt Harvey, Mark Skyes and Cameron Harrison. AFC Fern beat Soldiers 2-1 thanks to brothers Grant and Travis McArthy.

OnFriday Victoria FC and Bridgtown Social battle for the Cannock Charity Cup at Walsall Wood FC. Kick off 7.30pm. On Sunday the Premier Cup Final is between Littleton FC and Hawkins Sports at Stafford Town. Kick off 2. 30pm

Champions – Poets Corner celebrate after lifting the Cannock Chase Cup by beating Ridware Oak 5-1

Casuals trounce Lockmen

Willenhall 0
W-ton Casuals 6

THE Lockmen still need a point to confirm West Midlands Premier survival after this poor performance saw them well-beaten by Casuals.

Willenhall conceded after 67 seconds when Ryan Taylor followed up Steve Booth's save to net the opener. The visitors added a second on 22 minutes through Craig Bannister. Adrian Jones got the third on 35 minutes.

The Lockmen threaten briefly at the start of the second half with Mattie Dorgan hitting the bar before goals from Tyrone Clarke-O'Connor and Angelo Franco then Chris Henry to blast home from the spot after a trip.

Success in cup for under-17s

WOLVERHAMPTON lifted the National Under-17s Cup with a hard-earned 7-3 win over Sevenoaks in the final at the AJ Bell Stadium, home of Aviva Premiership club Sale Sharks.

All the points were scored in the first half with Wolves recovering from going 3-0 down to an early penalty.

Centre Marinus Augostine scored the only try of the final with fly-half Tom Jones adding the conversion.

The squad beat Hull Ionians RFC to qualify for a place in the final for the very first time in the competition's history. The semi resulted in a nail biting 14-14 draw, Wolverhampton RFC scrum half Tom Jones kicked for victory .

Sign up or lose out says Smith

DEAN Smith has warned Walsall's out-of-contract players they will have to sign up swiftly or say goodbye.

Wednesday was 'D-Day' for several Saddlers stars whose deals expire in the summer, as they sit down with the manager to discuss their futures.

But Smith wants to hear whether they want to stay before offering any deals to those he hopes to keep.

Under FA rules, players have 28 days to decide whether to accept a formal contract offer.

But having experienced prolonged sagas with Will Grigg, Febian Brandy and others last summer, Smith is keen to avoid the same problems and says players can either decide quickly or be made free transfers.

When asked about the danger of things dragging on, Smith explained: "There is (a 28-day period) but this time there won't be because the conversation will be: 'Right, we want you. Do you want to stay? Let's sort a deal out now, otherwise you'll be a free transfer'.

"I'm not going to have offers out there where people can go and bargain with other clubs and your budget is tied up. So the situation will be 'We want you. If you want to stay, then let me know'."

Jackett wants big support

KENNY JACKETT says it's his ambition to keep 30,000 crowds at Wolves with good football.

Gates of 30,110 and 29,829 watched their last two home games as they stormed to the third-tier title with a string of records propelled by 17 wins out of the last 21 games.

Head coach Jackett wants to maintain the feelgood factor with 30,000 crowds the norm.

"We wanted to do well on Saturday so we have 30,000 people looking forward to next season," said Jackett.

"We want people saying: 'They're a good football side and we'll support them next season and we're looking forward to it.'

"The crowd of 30,000 will only react off what they see on the pitch."

He is keen to maintain the restored connection between fans and players.

Cup is crowning glory for successful season

The cup-winning team after topping off a successful season

Rubery Owen Cup Final
Rugeley 45 St Leonards 19

RUGELEY ended their most successful season in recent history with an emphatic win in the Rubery Owen cup final against St Leonard's of Stafford.

Club captain Nathen Homer scored the first try, seven minutes into the game. With the conversion from Jordan Wood.

Rugeley's David Bagnall ran 30 metres to score and the extra points were added..

St Leonard's the fought back with a try of their own.Rugeley forward Matt Joss answered by scoring on the last play of the first period.

Rugby

Under two minutes into the start of the second half Rugeley centre Luke Paggett ran straight at St Leonard's and scored. But again St Leonard's weren't dead just yet and brought the score down to 24-14.

Rugeley second row Chris Dynda scored a converted try under the posts. Within one minute of the restart Wood ran in an impressive try, which he converted and converted for Rugeley.

The opposition weren't finished yet, as with only four minutes left to play they scored.

At the death Dynda scored the final try of the afternoon, with the conversion the score stood at 45-19, rounding of the club's most successful season in more than 25 years.

The 2nds won the Merit League and the 1st won the Midlands 5 North west league and now The Rubery Owen Cup.

TWO LATE GOALS SHATTER DREAMS

Altrincham 2 Hednesford Town 1

HEDNESFORD Town's Conference promotion dreams came crashing down on a sunny day in Cheshire thanks to two late goals in a minute.

Despite taking a heroic 1-0 lead with just 10 minutes to go, The Pitmen and their supporters were left devastated after the final whistle at Altrincham.

Football

On a dramatic day at Moss Lane, a superb move by substitute Robbie Thompson-Brown and Darren Campion set up Tom Thorley to nod in at the backpost.

The Hednesford travelling throngs went wild as it gave them the dream of a home play-off final against Guiseley next Saturday.

Unfortunately, Altrincham showed real desire for an equaliser and two quality crosses with some tired defending proved the undoing for The Pitmen.

But boss Rob Smith could only talk of the immense pride he had in his team.

Deflating

"We didn't leave anything in the dressing room, we gave everything we had and I'm just gutted for the lads," he said.

"The end was so deflating with what's happened to us this year. We just needed to hang on a couple of minutes more but I've never been as proud of a dressing room in my whole career."

Captain Darren Campion echoed his manager's sentiments in equally deflated fashion.

'The spirit in the team was great today; we frustrated Altrincham for an hour, started playing our football, scored our goal but couldn't hang on," he said.

'The gaffer gave a nice talk to us in the dressing room after the game about how proud he was of us. No-one would have thought we would have been at this level at the start of the season, there was no pressure on us but it was a real sucker punch towards the end.'

With the game level on aggregate at 2-2 after Wednesday's first leg The Pitmen went with a plan to frustrate Altrincham's passing style and thanks largely to the incredible defensive performance of Ben Bailey and Paul McCone it worked.

The Robins started positively and Dan Crane made two superb saves.

The Pitmen's best chance came when Dave Macpherson's header was tipped onto the bar.A disjointed second half came alive with Thorley's goal.

Substitute Marvin Robinson headed narrowly over soon after but then came the late goals from Damian Reeves and James Lawrie.

Pitmen's Alex Melbourne then forced a stunning save.

A goalmouth scramble between Altrincham and Hednesford during the second round match in Cheshire

Fans get thanked by Jody

JODY CRADDOCK thanked the thousands of fans for turning up for his testimonial on an emotional day at Molineux.

A crowd of 9,095 watched Craddock's former Wolves and Sunderland Championship-winning teams of 2009 and 1999 respectively do friendly battle on Monday.

And the players cast lis was as impressive as the attendance as current Wolves players Carl Ikeme, Richard Stearman, George Elokobi and Dave Edwards joined forces with old teammates Craddock, Christophe Berra, Seyi Olofinjana and Sylvan Ebanks-Blake.

Ex-Black Cats stars included Kevin Phillips, Niall Quinn, Kevin Kilbane, Thomas Sorensen and Gavin McCann, while Craddock and Alex Rae turned out for both sides.

"It was great – there was a fantastic turnout," said Craddock.

The major beneficiary is Birmingham Children's Hospital, where the Craddocks' son Toby is still receiving treatment for leukaemia for a new cancer unit but it will take a few weeks to work out how much the game raised.

Friendlies for Smith's squad

THE Saddlers have confirmed two more pre-season friendly fixtures – as they will twice head to Devon.

Dean Smith's men will face Calor League outfit Taunton Town on Wednesday July 16, before travelling to Torquay United – relegated from League Two this season - three days later on Saturday July 19.
